FAIRBANKS IS FOR ROOSEVELT

The Indiana Senator Has Abandoned His Presidential Aspirations.

PROVES HIS LOYALTY

Question of His Candidacy Settled During Recent Visit to M. A. Hanna at Cleveland.

HOOSIER STATE ALSO IN LINE

[FROM A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]
[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Indianapolis, June 5.—Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana is not a candidate for president of the United States, but will help swing the Indiana delegation in line for President Roosevelt. His assistance in this direction is not necessary, for the people of Indiana are already in line for Roosevelt, although no opportunity has recently been afforded for an expression by convention. Senator Fairbanks is not at present in the city, but one authorized to speak for him told me today that there was no doubt about the senator's position. He is not a candidate and will not permit his name to go before the convention.

A considerable amount of Fairbanks booming has been done throughout the state by some of Mr. Fairbanks' political followers, but it is stated that this was done without the senator's consent or approval. The fact that the boom was started and pushed along by United States Marshal Keating and other Fairbanks appointees made it appear that the senator was really out after the nomination. Then came the declaration of Charles Hernley, formerly chairman of the Indiana Republican central committee that the delegation would be instructed for Fairbanks; and there was every appearance of a contest for next year.

RESULT OF CLEVELAND VISIT.

Two weeks ago Senator Fairbanks went to Cleveland where he presided at a banquet of the Indiana society and while there he had several conferences with Senator Hanna and was a guest at the Hanna home. This was just at the time when Senator Hanna was so strongly opposing the indorsement of Roosevelt's candidacy by the Ohio state convention and at the same time protesting that he himself was not a candidate for the presidency. This situation aroused the suspicion that possibly Mr. Hanna intended to back Mr. Fairbanks in the presidential race and there was considerable gossip to this effect.

Since that visit to Cleveland Senator Fairbanks has let it be known that he has no intention of going into the race and is not a candidate in any sense, and the Ohio convention has put that state into the Roosevelt column. It is likely that in the near future the senator will take occasion to make a public declaration in favor of Roosevelt's nomination. It is generally understood here in his home city that he is not a candidate, and the people are taking advantage of every opportunity to show their preference for Roosevelt.

There was ample evidence given last night in the city of what the people of Indiana think of President Roosevelt. The schedule of the president's train permitted of a stop of only 10 minutes here, but in that brief space of time Mr. Roosevelt made an impression upon the people of this state that cannot fail to have its effect upon his candidacy.

DEFIED THE WEATHER.

In the face of a drizzling rain that made the night most disagreeable, over 5,000 people gathered at the railroad station to see and hear the president. More than half this number had to stand in the rain without any shelter, but they were there and they yelled themselves hoarse in applauding the speaker. In that crowd that braved the inclement weather to pay their respects to the president were Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, Governor Durbin, Mayor Bookwalter and other state, county and city officials.

Reports had been spread broadcast over the country that Roosevelt would receive a "frost" in Indianapolis, the inference being that the people would take occasion to show their preference for Fairbanks for president next year by paying no attention to the president. As it turned out there was a significance in the reception President Roosevelt received here, but it was of a different nature from that predicted. The people yelled for Roosevelt, took a drenching that they might see and hear him and told him to his face they were for him. In common with the people all over the country they admire the man and approve of his deeds.

Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge both went east with the president on his special train, the former to attend the commencement exercises of Princeton university, and the latter to Washington on official business.

It was characteristic of Roosevelt to show no partiality, but to insist upon both the Indiana senators accompanying him. There is keen political rivalry between Senators Fairbanks and Beveridge, and for the president to have shown favors to one that he did not to the other in the home city of both would have been to give one some measure of prestige over the other. Bond Issue Defeated.

CAR PLUNGED OVER A BANK

Sixteen Persons Injured in an Accident Near Glenwood.

TURNED CLEAR OVER

No One on Board Escaped Injury, but by a Miracle None Was Killed.

NEARLY WENT INTO THE RIVER

Sixteen persons were seriously injured and narrowly escaped death while riding on a car on the Braddock and Wilmerding branch of the Pittsburgh Railways Company line last night about 8 o'clock. While the car, No. 8, was speeding through the darkness just east of the Glenwood bridge it jumped the track and rolled over the embankment almost to the water's edge of the Monongahela river. That the passengers, there being 14 in the car at the time it was wrecked, were not crushed to death is beyond explanation. Every person, including the conductor and motorman, were more or less injured.

THE INJURED.

ANDREW POLKO, Indiana; contused hip; at Mercy hospital.
GEORGE POLKO, Indiana; hand lacerated and body bruised; at Mercy hospital.
MICHAEL POLKO, Indiana; ankle lacerated, body bruised; at Mercy hospital.
JAMES MULLIN, No. 52 Bates street, Oakland; wrist sprained; taken home.
JOHN MULLIN, No. 52 Bates street, Oakland; bruised and cut on body; taken home.
TONY YODS, East Pittsburgh; fractured right forearm, lacerated arm; body bruised; at Mercy hospital.
VINCENT PIETERITITCH, East Pittsburgh; lacerated neck; at Mercy hospital.
ANDREW GERBOS, East Pittsburgh; lacerated nose; at Mercy hospital.
MRS. F. C. ANDERSON, No. 205 Wall street, Wilmerding; contused elbow and wrist, ankle sprained; sent home.
GEORGE MATZ, No. 109 Walter avenue, South Side; side crushed; was taken home by his father.
MRS. J. H. DIETZ, No. 311 Federal street, Allegheny; contused left hip and shoulder; sent home in a carriage.
MISS A. E. WARNER, No. 814 East street, Allegheny, with Mrs. Dietz; suffering from shock; sent home.
MISS MINNIE WISE, 22 years, Chain Works row, McKees Rocks; shoulder contused, back of neck injured, lost one tooth; sent home.
A. V. CUNNINGHAM, No. 1982 Lytle street, Hazelwood; ribs broken and badly bruised about the body; taken home.
C. W. SMITH, conductor of car, No. 3518 Gertrude street; sprained about the shoulders and arms; went home.
E. R. PENCE, motorman, Almeda street; bruised and cut about the head and arms.

DIVED DOWN EMBANKMENT.

The car was east bound and when about 200 yards east of the overhead bridge it left the track. The Braddock branch line runs parallel with the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and the Monongahela river, the traction line being next to the river. From the bridge to the City farm station the road is lighted only at long intervals and the motormen are compelled to observe extra caution in running. The line is double-tracked and the car, being east bound was running on the tracks on the river side.

When the car reached a point east of the bridge it suddenly raised up from the rails and dived head first over the embankment, a distance of about 15 feet. From the car tracks to the river bank is a sheer drop and when the front wheels of the car struck the soft sandy bank they ploughed into the sand, causing the rear of the car to swing around toward the river.

The momentum threw the car over on its side and then it rolled over and finally landed with the truck and wheels in the air and the body of the car on its back.

When the car rolled over the passengers were thrown on its side and then on the ceiling, which was down. Almost as soon as the car stopped rolling the two big motors, each weighing 1,800 pounds, crashed through the car. The motors caught on the upper parts of the window frames in falling and were held tight. Had the motors gone clear through the car it is probable that not a passenger would have survived to tell the story of the wreck. The fact that the soft sand on the river bank stopped the car's flight over the bank within a few feet of the water's edge saved the passengers penned in under the heavy motors from being drowned in the Monongahela river.

When the injured passengers and crew realized their position they dragged themselves out of the car.

Three of the passengers on the car were women, and the less seriously in-

Robert A. Ammon and "Syndicate" Miller occupy adjoining cells tonight in the Tombs. Late this afternoon the last of the 12 jurors in the trial of Col. Ammon for receiving stolen money belonging to the Franklin syndicate was chosen. Judge Newberger, who is sitting in part two, general sessions, invariably holds that bail is not good after the defendant's trial has been begun, and although Col. Ammon was under $10,000 bail he was ordered to jail.

HANNA WILL DEVOTE HIS SUMMER TO POLITICS

Senator Assures His Political Friends That He Is Not Going Abroad, As Reported.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

COLUMBUS, O., June 5.—Before leaving Columbus yesterday Senator Hanna told his close political friends that the story of his contemplated trip to Europe is all a myth. He said that he will remain in Ohio this summer and devote the major part of his time to the coming campaign. He will begin the work of organization at once and give it much personal attention; although the speaking campaign will not open until after the Democratic convention in August. He will begin to stump the state about September 15, and expects to visit all the counties whose vote is in doubt in the slightest degree.

The heavily Republican sections of the state will be left to Senators Beveridge, Fairbanks, Dolliver, Lodge, Depew and Penrose, all of whom Senator Hanna expects to take part in the battle in Ohio this fall. Senator Foraker will cover the entire state on a stumping tour, and Warren G. Harding, candidate for the lieutenant governorship and one of the best orators in Ohio, will also make speeches in nearly every county. Harding now has the chance he has coveted to increase his acquaintance, having in view the governorship after Colonel Herrick's term of service. It is practically settled that General Dick will remain at the head of the state executive committee.

GIRL DID NOT DIE AS RESULT OF THE FIRE

Investigation Makes Toll-House Mystery Look Like Crime.

SUSPECT NOT CAUGHT

There is a mystery about the death of the unknown young woman whose body is lying at the morgue and who was found dead Thursday night in the fruit store at the Allegheny end of the Seventh street bridge. There is now no doubt in the minds of the Allegheny police that the girl met with foul play, and the entire front office was last night put to work on the case. Nicholas Mannis, one of the Greeks who occupied the old toll house where the girl's body was found, was arrested yesterday.

Marcelius Palropulears, proprietor of the place, who is supposed to know the circumstances leading up to the death of the woman, is still at large.

Supt. M. H. Campbell of the Allegheny police said last night that the man is certainly with friends in Pittsburgh and will be arrested today. Mannis told, through an interpreter yesterday, that Palropulears had ordered him out of the building several minutes before the fire was discovered.

Louis Powell of Allegheny, aged 17, who formerly worked for Palropulears, said that he was standing opposite to the fruit store when Mannis was ordered out and that he saw the other Greek set fire to a rag that was wrapped about the pipe connecting the tank and the burner of the oil stove. The explosion followed. In the meantime Palropulears, according to Powell, stood outside the building and lighted a cigarette. When the explosion occurred he ran over the bridge.

Dr. Walter G. McCandless held a post-mortem examination on the body of the girl yesterday and declared she died of some affection of the heart. It is the opinion of the Allegheny police that the girl had been in the fruit store all afternoon; that after an orgy she fainted from heart failure, and that the Greeks, becoming frightened, set fire to the gasoline stove, hoping to hide the death by having the body of the girl consumed by the fire.

Residents of the vicinity have several times in the past few months lodged complaints with the Humane society against Palropulears for trying to induce young girls to enter his place by offering them candy and fruit. Humane Agent J. H. Rea said Palropulears even went over to the Fourth ward school on Duquesne Way with candy and endeavored to persuade girls to follow him over to his store. The society had men watch the Greek a number of times, but never caught him in the act.

Chief Deputy Coroner Louis Huchel made information against Mannis charging him with being a witness to the murder of an unknown girl.

Dr. Walter McCandless said last night that the girl was not suffocated, nor had she died of the burns she received. An abrasion was found at the base of the girl's skull which Dr. McCandless says would not cause death, but might have rendered the girl unconscious for a time.

Fireman Patrick Sweeney, of Allegheny Engine Co. No. 6, who was run over by his truck while going to the fire at the toll house on Thursday night, died yesterday morning at the Allegheny General hospital. Sweeney's left leg was badly crushed and had to be amputated. He had been a member of Columbia engine Co. No 6 for five years.

HE GETS A PENSION AFTER WAITING FOR 37 YEARS

Man Who Fought on Both Sides in the Civil War Is Granted a Pension.

LAPORTE, IND., June 5.—(Special.)—Judge Paul J. Corby was today advised of the granting to him of a pension after waging a fight for nearly 37 years. His case is said to be without precedent. He enlisted in the confederate army at the outbreak of the civil war and won rapid promotion. He changed his views in 1863 and laid aside the gray to wear the blue, serving with equal distinction in the union army.

The government refused to recognize him as a pensioner because of his first enlistment with the army of the south, but action by the department will now give him a handsome pension and back pay which aggregates a small fortune.

BRAKEMAN THE WINNER.

College Professor Runs Second in Competition for Chicago Maiden's Heart and Hand.

CHICAGO, June 5.—(Special.)—To cupid a college professor is no better than a brakeman. The little god even preferred the latter last evening when, in spite of her father's protests and devotion of Prof. F. J. Truby of the Northwestern academy, Mabel Garnsey slipped away to Wilmette and was married to Aubrey Cormick, a brakeman.

Before he ever saw her Cormick fell in love with Miss Garnsey's voice. She was singing to a sick woman to whom she had taken some flowers. They met, but her father objected to the friendship. He preferred the professor and insisted, it is said, upon his daughter's engagement to him. She pleided, and for one brief week the professor was happy.

OPERATORS ENJOINED.

Judge Kohlsaat Makes Perpetual Order Prohibiting Combines in Mining and Selling Coal.

CHICAGO, June 5.—(Special.)—A perpetual injunction restraining the Illinois and Indiana coal operators from entering any combine to fix prices or control the output of their mines was issued by Judge Kohlsaat today in the United States district court.

The order says that the defendants entered into a contract to fix prices and to sell through one distributing agency. The operators admitted this. The court next finds that the defendants had ceased to operate under this agreement prior to the filing of the government's bill. Then, declaring that it was not the desire of the defendants to carry out the contract in future the court issued its order.

ANGRY STUDENTS ASSAIL A SCHOOL

LOGANSPORT, IND., June 5.—(Special.)—Fifty students of Bates street school, angry at not being promoted, laid siege to the building with stones and ink bottles this afternoon, smashing all the windows, throwing occupants into a panic and surrendering only when a patrol wagon, in answer to a riot call, arrived with a squad of policemen. Ten arrests were made. The exterior of the building presents a dilapidated appearance.

SENATOR'S SON IS LOCOMOTIVE FIREMAN

WALLA WALLA, WASH., June 5.—(Special.)—Nesmith Ankeny, eldest son of United States Senator Ankeny, because his sire did not invite him to a banquet given in honor of President Roosevelt, resigned the management of his father's 20,000-acre ranch and has taken a job as fireman on a locomotive. The senator is very much amused and regards his son's prank as a good joke.

DEATH OF 865 DUE TO DELAYS

Typhoid Fever's Ravages in Pittsburgh Continue to Increase.

BAD WATER IS CAUSE

Filtration in Two Other Cities Reduced Typhoid Death Rate Five-Sixths.

LOCAL RECORD IS WORST

Lack of filtration of water used for drinking and cooking by the people of Pittsburgh is responsible for the death of 865 of their number in the past two years and four months, according to calculations based on the most accurate information and scientific calculation.

Were such a disaster to occur that 865 persons should meet sudden death in Pittsburgh, the whole world would be horrified, and if the responsibility could be placed there is no doubt that prosecution and possibly sentence of death would follow. Certainly there would be guarding against the repetition of the causes of the disaster. But the reports of the deaths from typhoid fever do not come all in one day, nor one week, and the impressiveness of the fatalities is not so great. Nevertheless, just as great suffering has been undergone and just as grim a total of lives have been blotted out by the failure of the city to provide for its citizens drinking and cooking water not infested with the deadly typhoid germs.

OVER 4,000 DEATHS.

The total of 865 deaths is not the whole number that have died of typhoid from the beginning of the year 1901 to the end of April, 1903. There have been 1,044 deaths from this disease in Pittsburgh in that period. The number ascribed as due to lack of filtration is obtained by careful investigation of the decrease in the death rate of the two large towns which have been infested with typhoid and have then introduced filtering of water, with the result that the death rate has been divided by five or six.

In these towns a death rate averaging 22 to each 100,000 population each year from typhoid fever has been experienced since the filtration plants were installed, but Pittsburgh's typhoid death rate has been upwards of 120 for years, and the record being made this year shows it runs 137.5 persons to each 100,000. In the first four months of the year the typhoid deaths of the city would have numbered 27, had the lower rate prevailed. The number was 165.

OPINION OF INVESTIGATOR.

The figures given have been collated with great care. A gentleman who had been investigating typhoid fever conditions for the benefit of another city had his attention called forcibly to the conditions prevailing in Pittsburgh. He completed the work for his own city and then devoted considerable time to the study of Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, he finds, has the highest typhoid fever death rate of any city in the country, according to the official reports for the year 1901. He finds moreover, that the reports for 1902 and the first four months show that it will not

SLEUTHS FIND ANOTHER LEAK

Two More Postal Clerks Charged With Robbing the Government.

BOTH ARE ARRESTED

Sold Pouches to Department for 90 Cents Each That Should Have Been Bought for 40.

AUGUST W. MACHEN INDICTED

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 14, Postal Building.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.

Two more arrests in the postoffice department scandals were made tonight. The inspectors under Gen. Bristow arrested Thomas W. McGregor and C. Ellsworth Upton, clerks of the free delivery division, on the charge of conspiring to rob the government. It is charged that they entered into a conspiracy with Charles E. Smith of Baltimore to supply rural delivery carriers with pouches in which money orders and registered letters could be carried. Since September 17 last the government has purchased 20,000 pouches. The government paid Smith 90 cents on each pouch. It only cost him 40 cents to make them and he gave 40 cents on each pouch to McGregor and Upton which made their profit $7,500 on an $18,000 transaction.

The legal bureau of the postoffice department says the evidence is conclusive. Smith will be arrested tomorrow. Inspectors Sullivan and Simmons worked up the case against McGregor and Upton. They did a very clever piece of detective work and when their presentation was made to Gen. Bristow the arrests were immediately ordered. The warrants were sworn out in Baltimore. McGregor accompanied two postoffice inspectors to Baltimore to have the warrants served on him. Upton was arrested in Washington tonight.

THEY FIND THE CLEW.

On examining the books in Superintendent Machen's office an apparently insignificant item attracted the attention of the inspectors. The book showed the money for the pouches was paid out of

CORDIAL WELCOME GIVEN PRESIDENT BY HIS NEIGHBORS

Attorney General Knox and Other Members of the Cabinet Greet the Chief Executive Upon His Return to Washington.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Room 14, Postal Building,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 5.

The national capital gave President Roosevelt an enthusiastic reception upon his return tonight from his western trip. Despite his long and wearisome experiences the president looked well and was in good spirits as he stepped from his train, which reached Washington about 7 p. m.

A great crowd had gathered and a cheer went up as the president passed through the station to his carriage. During the drive to the White House the president stood up in his carriage and waved his hat and bowed his acknowledgments.

There was a large gathering of officials at the station when he arrived. They included Secretaries Root, Hitchcock and Cortelyou and Postmaster General Payne. He spent a few minutes exchanging greetings with the officials. He talked longer with Postmaster General Payne than any of the others, the latter throwing his arms about the president and apparently whispering to him. The president, accompanied by Captain Cowles, then entered a carriage and with his party, which included Attorney General Knox, Secretary Wilson and Senator Fairbanks, were escorted by the battalion of high school cadets along Pennsylvania avenue to the White House grounds.

FIRE ENGINES ADD TO THE NOISE.

Fire engines were stationed at the intersecting streets on the avenue and the telling of their bells added to the welcome of the president. While the review of the cadets was taking place, a large crowd of people repaired to the rear of the White House, where the marine band gave a concert in honor of the arrival home of the chief executive. They expected that the president would appear for a moment to acknowledge the greeting home that had been given to him and in this they were not disappointed. The band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and then as the president appeared on the portico struck up "Hail to the Chief." The president made a brief speech to the gathering, saying:

My Friends and Neighbors: I thank you very, very much for coming to greet me this afternoon and I have appreciated more than I can say the welcome back home that I have received today. I have been absent over two months and I have traveled many miles. During that time one thing has struck me and that is the substantialness of the American people. One can travel from ocean to ocean and from Canada to the gulf and always be at home among one's fellow Americans. I thank you again, my friends, and now I am going in to my own folks.

AN UNEVENTFUL RUN.

The run from Pittsburgh to Washington was without incident. None but necessary stops were made, and the only speech the president made during the day was at Altoona, where he addressed a few words to a large crowd that assembled around his car. Crowds were at the stations by which the train ran and warmly cheered every appearance

Harrison Graves, a press agent of the Empire theater, Cleveland, says George Ade did not write the "Sultan of Sulu." Graves says he wrote it himself and says he can be backed up by many managers. According to him the opera was first offered to the Bostonians.

James J. Hackett may have a theater all to himself on Broadway. It will be run by the independent agency.

Kocian, the violinist who appeared with Duss, took out his fiddle on the stranded Deutschland and played to the amazement and delight of the passengers.

Nixon & Zimmerman have their eyes on Washington, D. C., as the site for a theater.

If the Deutschland doesn't make up some of her lost time London will undergo a small panic. Aboard the boat is $5,000,000 in gold and securities. The latter are for the fortnightly settlement, the last day of which is June 11. If the boat doesn't get to London by then there will result "backwardation" or interest charges.

of the president on the platform of the car.

The trip just completed has been in some respects the most remarkable a president ever took. Mr. Roosevelt and his party traveled over 14,000 miles on railroads and several hundred miles in stage coaches and carriages, but not an accident marred the journey.

During the 85 days that the president spent on the road he made 265 speeches, and had it not been for Secretary Loeb's flimsiness he would have made nearly double that number.

One of the remarkable features of the trip was the non-partisan spirit displayed in the reception of the president everywhere. Democratic as well as Republican mayors united in extending him a welcoming hand, while at Springfield, Ill., former Vice President Stevenson rode in the carriage with the president.

ROOSEVELT WAS IN TOWN.

President Greeted by a Large Crowd at Union Station During 20-Minute Stay.

President Theodore Roosevelt spent about 20 minutes in Pittsburgh yesterday morning, coming in on the Panhandle road on his way to Washington from his western trip and leaving on the Pennsylvania railroad. A crowd of at least 1,000 persons greeted the chief executive at the Union station shed, and when he appeared on the platform of the car loud cheers rent the air, cries of "Roosevelt—1904," "Hurrah for Teddy," "The People's Choice," etc., being easily discerned.

"I am happy to be with you and am glad to get back. Good luck to you all," was his reply when importuned for a speech.

The president left the car and walked around the platform for exercise, stopping every few steps to shake hands and say a few words with citizens and railroad employes who crowded around him.

Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana, was in the president's party. Attorney General P. C. Knox did not meet the president at the station, as was expected.

ICE MONOPOLY ADVANCES PRICES

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—New York will suffer during the warm weather from lack of ice and exorbitant prices. The American Ice Company, which has absolute control of the supply of ice in New York this summer, has just announced an advance of $1 per ton wholesale and this advance will likely be duplicated soon. The wholesale price of ice here now is between $3 and $3 50 per ton. The retail price is about $6 per ton.

WANAMAKER CALLS UPON MAYOR WEAVER

Both the latter and Mrs. Rocchinano were cut with a razor during the melee, but neither were seriously hurt.

Negro Voters Have a Grievance.

William N. Page of No. 22 Wandless street has written an open letter to Thomas S. Bigelow protesting against the treatment accorded to negro officeholders by the Citizens party. Page says that the net result of the election has been the elimination of colored city employes from some offices and the placing of colored men in smaller positions than before. Page wrote that he heard that a negro in City Treasurer Edward J. Frauenheim's office is to be discharged to make way for a white man.

Sneak Thief Made a Good Haul.

The thief escaped and the police were notified. They in a short time arrested five suspects, but all were discharged except Thomas L. Day, who is held pending investigation. Day formerly worked for Hardy.

No Decision in Postal Station Case.

E. M. Norris of the United States postoffice department, who has been in Pittsburgh two days investigating the matter of the proposed location of the Craftonstation of the Pittsburgh postoffice, left last night for Waynesburg without having reached any decision. The arguments from both sides have not all been given and the matter will be further considered before a final decision is made.

the emergency fund and no advertisement for bids had been made. In eight months on hurry orders enough pouches had been bought to supply every carrier of every rural route in the United States. The inspectors examined the pouches and made various inquiries as to the cost of their manufacture. Concerns in similar lines of business offered to make them for from 35 to 50 cents. The thought then suggested itself of writing Mr. Smith a letter. In due time he received an inquiry asking him how much he would charge for supplying a certain firm with pouches which were duplicates of those furnished the rural carriers.

In reply he offered to make them in any quantity desired for 40 cents each. With this information as a basis the inspectors discovered the various sums of money paid the two conspirators in the government service.

The cases in which arrests have been made indicate the extent to which the government has been plundered. In the matter of purchasing Groff fasteners to the amount of $150,000 the rake-off amounted to nearly $120,000. The fasteners cost 25 cents each. The government paid $1 25. For the rural delivery pouches for handling registered letters the cost to the government was a little more than double the cost of manufacture and there was no patent to plead in justification of the robbery.

WHERE THE MONEY CAME FROM.

The inspectors have made no effort to associate Machen with this new steal. McGregor was only a $1,600 clerk who carried the dignified title of superintendent of free delivery supplies. He was subject to Machen's orders and it would appear as a prima facie case that such a contract would have been inspected by his chief. There was appropriated by the last congress $550,000 for the emergency fund, out of which both the Groff brothers and the Smith steals came. So far the least profit to the postoffice conspirators unearthed in any government contract has been 40 per cent of the contract price.

The grand jury today reported an indictment against August W. Machen, former superintendent of the free delivery service of the postoffice department, who was arrested several days ago, charged with sharing profits on government contracts for letter box fasteners. The amount which the indictment states he received illegally is $18,987 79. Mr. Machen was in court with his attorneys when the grand jury reported and immediately gave bond in the sum of $20,000 for his appearance in court. His sureties were O. G. Staples, David Moore, F. M. Criswell and Emanuel Speich of this city. The trial will occur in October.

VICTORY FOR THE GOVERNMENT.

By securing an indictment against Machen before tomorrow, the day set for his preliminary hearing before Commissioner Taylor, the government has secured a victory in that it has avoided the necessity of showing its hand at a preliminary hearing. The proceedings before the commissioner now will be abandoned.

In discussing the case with his friends Mr. Machen says that certain checks which it is maintained were sent to him in payment of his profits, in the Groff fastener and which have been secured by the postoffice inspectors were sent him by his business partner, George E. Lorenz of Toledo, O., and formerly postmaster of that city.

BALTIMORE, June 5.—Columbus Ellsworth Linton was locked up in the Central police station tonight, and is held for the United States authorities. He will be taken before United States Commissioner Rogers tomorrow or Monday. Bail was refused by the local postoffice officials. Three postoffice inspectors are in the city and the police expect other arrests.

They could have defended themselves against the mob, but the police would not let them. Out of 127 persons arrested in the act of looting and murdering, declared the fugitives, 115 were acquitted and the remainder were sentenced to short terms of imprisonment.

NO RAIN COMES TO SAVE THE FORESTS

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—Forest fires continue to burn fiercely in the Adirondacks, Long Island, New Jersey, New England and Quebec. No relief by rain is in sight, according to the government weather bureau. HOW FILTRATION REDUCED TYPHOID FEVER FATALITIES

Pittsburgh Has Paid Dearly for Delay in Securing Pure Water.

The chart shows the typhoid fever death record of the three cities, Pittsburgh, Albany, N. Y., and Lawrence, Mass., from 1888 to the end of April, this year. The vertical columns show the years. The horizontal columns, the death rate per 100,000. Each ascending square means an increase of 50 deaths to the 100,000 population.

It will be seen what results followed immediately after the filtration plants were established. The oldest plant is that at Lawrence. It was put in use in September, 1893. The death rate dropped in a year from 105.2, the rate the year before the plant was started, to 47.5, the rate the first year the plant was in operation for the full year. It has continued dropping until last year the rate was but 17.

Albany profited by the example of the Massachusetts city. Its plant was opened in August, 1899. Its death rate in 1895 had been as high as 165.3, and the city was frightened, as Pittsburgh is today. The rate was still at the abnormal figure of 94 the year before the plant was opened, and it became 51 the year afterward. It was 28 last year.

The drop in the Lawrence death rate would have been still more marked had not the employes at a certain factory insisted in 1894 and 1895 upon drinking water from a canal. Typhoid became common among them on that account, and a number of deaths resulted. Taking these cases out of the count, the death rate for Lawrence, as shown in the lower curve, dropped in the first year of the filtration to 25.8.

Pittsburgh's death rate has been high for many years, but it has been on a marked and steady increase since 1896. The illustration shows how the rate has continued mounting, while those of the other cities lowered. The occasional increases for a short time in the death rates of Albany and Lawrence have been due to temporary causes such as the board of health could quickly remedy. The general result has never been anything but greatly beneficial.

DR. W. W. VERNER WILL ENTER NAVAL SERVICE

Allegheny Physician Is One of Four to Get Berths in the Medical Corps.

Dr. William W. Verner of Allegheny, Dr. Otto Kohlhase of Webster, S. D., Dr. Percival S. Rossiter of Baltimore, Md., and Dr. Wesley H. Bonnie of Chester, Pa., were yesterday appointed to the medical corps of the United States navy. Dr. Walter S. Hoen of Richmond, Va., Dr. Wallace B. Smith of Huntsville, Ala., and Dr. C. C. Grieve of Iona Mich., were appointed assistant surgeons. John A. Bull of Santa Barbara, Cal., was appointed paymaster.

For many years Dr. Verner made his home with Mr. Scaife in Western avenue, Allegheny. He is a graduate of the Hahnemann Medical college of Philadelphia and of the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Verner, who is 27 years old, left Princeton college during the time of the rush to the Klondike and became a member of a portable hospital expedition into the Chilkoot Pass district. He was one of the members of the first Baldwin-Zeigler expedition to the North Pole. Dr. Verner visited Allegheny last week, but at present is in Philadelphia.

BEATEN BY WHITECAPS

Drummer and Telegraph Lineman Have Terrible Experience With a Mob.

MEMPHIS, June 5.—(Special.)—Seized by an infuriated mob, hauled through the streets by scores of rough hands, tied to a stake, tarred and beaten and their lives threatened, such was the experience of W. D. Thomss, traveling salesman for the Vanvleet Mansfield Drug Company, and John Ward, a telegraph lineman at Wynne, Ark., last night. It is alleged that Ward intended to elope with the wife of a Wynne business man and Thomas was whipped for alleged assistance given to the former.

They were carried to the outskirts of the town, where the punishment was inflicted. When Thomas reached Memphis today he was in a pitiful plight. "After the mob left," said he, "I made my escape by way of the railroad. I was warned not to show myself in Wynne again on the pain of death. They took my pistol and my money."

RAILROAD REORGANIZED.

Directors of the Louisville Road Will Increase the Capital Stock.

LOUISVILLE, June 5.—The directors of the Louisville Railway Company met today and agreed on a plan for the reorganization of the company. They will increase the capitalization from $12,000,000 to $21,200,500.

The plan provides for paying for improvements estimated at $3,000,000 and the purchase of $2,500,000 preferred and $3,500,000 common stock of the old company by issues of stock in a company to be incorporated in New Jersey. The bonded indebtedness will not be increased.

NEW YORK PAYS WELL FOR REMOVING SNOW

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—Dr. John McGaw Woodbury, the commissioner of street cleaning, today sent to the board of estimate for approval a contract for snow and ice removal next winter, at a fraction less than 15 cents per cubic yard. The price paid last year was 28 cents per cubic yard. The late Col. Waring paid as high as 55 cents a yard for the same work. Dr. Woodbury said today that the city last winter paid $415,000 for snow removal. Under the new contract the same amount of work can be done next winter at a cost of $247,000.

SAD SCENE IN COURT WHEN RELATIVES MET

Judge Collier and his assistants were knocked out in court yesterday, when an affecting scene between an aged father and sister, and two alleged feeble-minded brothers took place, during an application for a guardianship. The two men, Ernest M. C. Blank, a one-time jeweler, and his brothers were taken into court from Marshalsea. During the hearing the old man feebly threw his arms about the boys. He was fought by one, but the other cried with him. The sister joined, and court and spectators had hard work to keep from following suit. Ernest had $5,000 in real estate. His sister was appointed guardian. No action was taken in the other case. As the officers from the City home led the young men away the crier in a husky voice adjourned court, making a mistake in so doing, while there sat alone in the court room, weeping together, the gray haired parent and his heart-broken daughter.

"I have been in this court room a long time," remarked Ad Gumbert, the clerk, "but that nearly knocked me out."

DEATH OF 865 DUE TO DELAYS

only eclipse all the other cities again, but will outdo its own past deadly record unless something unforeseen comes up to block the ravages of the disease.

Moreover, he has made an equally careful study of the two American cities that present a parallel to this city in their past typhoid conditions.

EXPERIENCE IN OTHER CITIES.

There are Albany, N. Y., and Lawrence, Mass. These cities have within the past two years established filtration plants and the death rate sank immediately upon the starting of filtration to but a small percentage of the death rate while unfiltered water was being used. The deduction, he believes, can not be escaped. Filtration is the secret of reducing the deaths from typhoid. He says: "I was greatly surprised to find that the city of Pittsburgh, being in this condition, and realizing the remedy for it, has not hastened the completion of the filtration project. When the site had been obtained, the plans drawn for at least as large a plant as would have given the greater part of the city pure water with corresponding relief from the scourge of typhoid fever, when all this was done, the work was nevertheless suddenly stopped and nothing has been done for about a year.

LOCAL CONDITIONS ARE WORST.

"This would not have seemed so strange if the conditions of Pittsburgh as to typhoid fever had been anywhere near as good as that of the average large city. But it does seem unaccountable in the face of the fact that the death rate for the year 1901 from typhoid fever was the highest in all the large cities in the land; that the death rate for the year 1902 was still higher and higher yet for the first four months of 1903.

"Comparative official figures for the year 1902 have not yet been issued, but there is no doubt that Pittsburgh was the highest then as well as for 1901.

"It was to remedy just such conditions as those that exist in Pittsburgh today that the filtration plants were installed in Lawrence and Albany."

These figures and facts are produced at a time when the question of filtration is about to be brought again prominently before the people. The filtration committee of councils is scheduled to have a meeting this afternoon. It is understood that this committee will be ready to report to councils at Monday's meeting. It is further understood that this committee will report strongly in favor of mechanical filtration, as opposed to sand filtration, the plan originally recommended by the filtration commission, of which Robert Pitcairn was president.

MECHANICAL FILTRATION FAVORED.

Mechanical filtration will be recommended first as quite as effective in clarifying the water and freeing it of bacteria as the sand process. It will be further urged that the money now available, $2,500,000, will be sufficient to to pay the entire cost of the mechanical plant, whereas a bond issue of about $1,500,000 will be necessary to complete the sand plant originally planned.

Mayor Hays yesterday gave out a statement that he opposed the issue of more bonds, and this is believed to indicate in which direction the wind is blowing. Mechanical filtration is to be tried.

STORM IN PHILIPPINES

Hurricane Sweeps Over Islands Causing Much Damage to Shipping.

MANILA, June 5.—A hurricane has swept over the Philippine islands and great damage has been done to shipping. The United States transport Shanshus is reported to have been wrecked. This, however, has not been confirmed. The United States steamer Pearla de Visayas has been totally lost off Comates island. Part of her crew were saved. The United States steamer San Rafeal and the schooner Mayflower have been driven ashore off Ormoc, West Leyte, and will prove a total loss.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The war department has no record of the transport Shanshus, but there is a small vessel in service of the army in the Phillipines named Samshui.

MILWAUKEE ABSORBED IN GAME OF BRIDGE WHIST

Mrs. Dalzell of Pittsburgh Gives Added Zest to the Pastime in Cream City.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

MILWAUKEE, June 5.—Milwaukee is mad over bridge whist. The somewhat languishing interest in the game was revived during the last week by Mrs. W. S. Dalzell of Pittsburgh, Pa., who is visiting friends in Milwaukee. During her stay in the city Mrs. Dalzell has been the honor guest at a number of entertainments while the favored game has been played. In fact, Milwaukee society women have fairly outdone themselves in entertaining Mrs. Dalzell.

For the last year bridge whist has been popular with the society women of this city, but during the last month it has taken such an impetus that no one can tell where the end will be.

DROUTH IS EXPENSIVE.

Continuance of Dry Weather in New England Throughout June Will Cost $70,000,000.

BOSTON, June 5.—(Special.)—At the office of the state board of agriculture the crop experts find it difficult to accurately estimate what the damage will be if rain does not fall in New England to a considerable extent within 10 days.

It was stated at the rooms of the board today that Col. Albert Clark's estimate that unless we have copious rains and warm weather throughout the rest of June the loss in New England will approximate $70,000,000 is probably not far out of the way. Col. Clark figures that the total value of the leading crops in the New England states is $183,000,000, divided as follows: Hay and forage, $43,500,000; cereals, $7,500,000; vegetables $84,500,000. He says that the loss in dairy products and live stock will be more difficult to estimate than any other.

MAYOR'S POWER REVOKED.

Huntington Council Retaliates for the Removal of a Police Officer.

HUNTINGTON, W. VA., June 5.—(Special.)—One of the fiercest municipal fights ever known in the history of the city is on between Mayor Buck and the members of city council, all of whom are Republicans. The mayor removed a policeman, which enraged the members of council and the latter held a special meeting, repealed every ordinance that gave the mayor any power, his only duty now being to preside over council meetings.

A mass meeting of the various labor unions was held here tonight, 2,000 persons being present, and resolutions were adopted demanding that the mayor be restored to his former power. Councilmen claim that they will ignore the demands of the mass meeting.

AGAINST THE MERGER

Case of Minnesota vs. Northern Securities Company Commenced Yesterday.

ST. PAUL, June 5.—Arguments were commenced today in the case of the commonwealth of Minnesota against the Northern Securities Company. The case is brought under a provision of the state constitution which prohibits the consolidation of parallel or competing lines of railway.

The arguments are based upon the same testimony as in the case against the merger by the federal government and it is anticipated that several days will be required to hear both sides.

PUBLISHERS LOSE IMPORTANT SUIT

WASHINGTON, June 5.—The court of appeals of the District of Columbia today sustained the contention of the government that the postmaster general was empowered to exclude from the mails at second-class postal rates the publication known as the Riverside Literature Series, issued by Houghton, Mifflin & Co. of Boston, and also "Masters in Music," published by Bates & Guild of Boston.

STREET CAR PLUNGED OVER AN EMBANKMENT

jured men at once assisted them from their perilous position under the big motors. Andy Gerbos of Braddock was pinned under the motors and it was impossible to release him until jacks could be secured with which to raise the motors and truck frame.

One of the men hurried to Browns station, a short distance above the place the wreck occurred, and telephoned the report of the accident to the Glenwood car barns. While help was being sent from the car barns a Braddock car, west bound, came along and the injured passengers were placed aboard and taken to the car barn at Glenwood, where their injuries were dressed by Dr. Charles F. Flessing, one of the company's surgeons. The persons who were more seriously injured were then placed on a car and taken to Brady street and Second avenue, where ambulances from Mercy hospital were waiting to convey them to the hospital.

About a half hour after the wrecking crew received word of the accident the motor under which Cabitz was pinned was raised and he was lifted out of the wreck. Gerbos was placed aboard a waiting car and hurried to the car barn and after being attended by Dr. Blessing, taken to the hospital.

Patrick Callahan, superintendent of transportation of the traction system, with G. W. Vetteradge, superintendent of Division No. 4, and Inspector Timothy Dunn, upon arriving at the scene of the wreck, first gave their attention to the injured. After they had been removed from the scene under the direction of Superintendent Callahan and Division Superintendent Vetteradge, the wrecking crew went to work to investigate the cause of the wreck.

The wrecked car was a closed one, and to alone was probably due the fact that none of the passengers was killed, as the woodwork in the side of the car prevented the motors falling clear through the overturned car.

The body of the car was completely crushed and a large portion was reduced to splinters. It will be a total loss, nothing but the motors and the steel car truck frame with the wheels being saved. After the wreckers had torn the car apart it was said by an official of the traction company that the loss sustained by the company is about $2,000.

Superintendent Callahan said that the wreck was, in his opinion, caused by the brakers which supports the brake beam breaking and allowing the beam to fall down. The shoes used in blocking the car wheels are attached to the brake beam, and when this went down the beam and shoe on the right side of the car fell before the wheel, raising the front side of the car from the track. Its momentum precipitated it over the side of the tracks and pushed it over the bank. For about 20 feet along the tracks, which are supported on the edge of the embankment by heavy wooden beams, there were deep grooves caused by the outside wheels running over the wooden beams after the car had left the track.

Motorman Pense said that he felt the car give a jerk as it left the track, but as the brake shoe had fallen he was unable to stop the car.

After the wrecking crew had dismantled what remained of the car it was ascertained that the persons more seriously injured had been sitting in the middle of the car when it went over the bank.

The rolling of the car broke every window in the sides, front and rear. While it was rolling and tossing the helpless passengers and the men in charge of the car were cut and gashed by the broken glass.

The scene of the wreck is one of the darkest and most dismal places on the entire railway system, and when the passengers finally succeeded in reaching the river bank it was impossible to tell how badly any of them were hurt, as the lights went out when the car went over the bank.

TROMBONE FINGERS HURT.

Young Musician Did Not Worry About the Loss of the Instrument.

George Matz, a young musician, whose home is in Allentown, but who is at present living at No. 100 Walter street, South Side, was on his way to Braddock to play in a concert and was carrying with him his trombone. When the car, after plunging down the embankment, rolled over, he was hurled to the roof. His side was badly bruised and the fingers and back of his right hand were cut by the flying glass. His trombone was demolished.

Together with the others of the injured he was carried to the Glenwood car barn and he waited there until is father, who had been telephoned for from the South Side, arrived. Young Matz was more concerned over the injuries to his hand than to those of his body, as he was afraid he might never again be able to finger the keys of his instrument. A bystander spoke some words of sympathy for the loss of the trombone, but the musician replied:

"I don't care anything about that, because it didn't belong to me."

Matz was taken home by his father.

DAY WAS A SAD ONE FOR POLKO BROTHERS

Returning from Funeral of a Fourth Brother, Three of Them Were Hurt.

Ill-omened is the fate that has pursued the family of the three Polko brothers, who were hurt in the accident. All three brothers had attended at Niles, O., yesterday morning the funeral of another brother, John Polko, who was killed on Wednesday by a falling derrick. The three brothers are engaged as laborers on the new Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroad line through Indiana county. They had come yesterday through Pittsburgh returning from the Niles funeral. They determined to stop off at Pittsburgh long enough to make a trip to Braddock to see friends who live there.

"We have not seen the friends yet," said Andrew Polko last evening. "The accident came upon us before the car had reached Braddock. Our family is in hard luck."

None of the three brothers are seriously hurt, but all will be laid up for a few days at the Mercy. The three are stretched out on beds side by side in the accident ward. All are young men and all had quickly recovered from the shock of their day of tragedy.

The accident is peculiar in the fact that so many brothers were hurt, for in addition to the three Polkos there were also two other brothers, John and James Mullin of Bates street, Oakland.

MOTHER LOVE PREVAILED

Injured Passenger Insisted Upon Going Home to Her Five Children.

When Mrs. F. C. Andersen was taken from the wrecked car she was suffering so much pain that it was believed she was one of the more seriously injured. When she was examined by Dr. Blessinger at the car barn it was found that her right arm was cut, her left wrist injured and her right ankle sprained.

The doctor told her that it would be necessary for her to go to the hospital, and attempted to put her on board the car, which was to be met by the ambulances at Brady street. She said that she had five children at home, at No. 205 Wall street, Wilmerding, and that she was obliged to go home to them. It was pointed out to her that she could do nothing for the children on account of her crippled condition, but she insisted on going to them, and finally had her way, being sent home in a carriage.

WHERE TIME IS MADE UP.

Motormen Have to Speed at the Point Where Accident Occurred.

A conductor, while returning from the wreck last night, started up a conversation with the motorman of a Braddock car. In talking of the accident the motorman said:

"Well, that's where we are supposed to make up for lost time."

The place referred to was where the car left the track.

CITIZENS MAKE FIFTY NEW JOBS

Many Positions Abolished by the Reformers Prior to the Last Election Are Restored.

WAGES OF SOME INCREASED

Drivers of Highways and Sewers Bureau Advanced—Matrons and Sanitary Inspectors Are Put Back—Whole Laboratory in Water Bureau Revived.

Fifty more places for job-hunting members of the Citizens party were created yesterday by the finance committee of councils in the departments of public safety and public works, entailing an addition to the yearly expenditures of these two departments of upwards of $45,000. Director E. M. Bigelow will have 28 of the 50 new jobs at his disposal and Director Harry Moore will have 22, which will help some in satisfying the demands made upon the new machine.

Some of the places created yesterday were abolished by the salaries revision committee just prior to the last municipal election, and the revival of these places brought out a number of sarcastic comments from Republican members of the finance committee who were present.

"It was a great committee," said James W. Platt to W. H. Stevenson, chairman of the committee on salaries revision. "The committee cut out these jobs and now, when the election is over, the places are being re-established. This is the reform, indeed, that we are getting. The salaries revision committee put us on the level with a country town and we are now to put on city togs again."

PIATT PROVOKES LAUGHTER.

Councilman Platt's sally was greeted with laughter by his Republican colleagues, but it was not relished by the Citizens. Mr. Stevenson said that some of the places restored had been cut out by mistake and others unintentionally.

The other Republican members voted with the Citizens in restoring the places and making a number of increases in salaries. In Director Bigelow's department the drivers of the bureau of highways and sewers were raised from $1 75 to $2 a day. There are now about 65 drivers in this bureau. For hiring teams the committee raised the rate from $4 50 a day to $5 50, and carts from $2 50 a day to $3 60. The night watchman of the Diamond market was raised from $2 to $2 50 a day.

The stablemen of the highways and sewers bureau have also asked for an increase of from $1 75 to $2 a day, but this was not granted.

The clerk in the general office of the public works department was raised from $52 38 a month to $100. One of the two wharf laborers was cut off and the wages of the other laborer increased from $1 75 to $2 a day. The following is the list of the new positions created in the public works department:

MORE PLACES FOR BIGELOW.

One assistant engineer in the bureau of construction at $125 a month; six inspectors, at $75 a month, eight inspectors in the bureau of highways and sewers at $75 a month; one watchman for the Diamond market at $75 a month; one foreman of the bureau of water supply and distribution $100 a month; one chemist, $125 a month; two assistant chemists, $75 a month; one assistant chemist, $60 a month; six fire hydrant inspectors, $2 a day.

In the public safety department the superintendent of horses is raised from $75 to $100 a month and the following new positions created: Clerk in the general office, $75 a month; one night officer, $75 a month; in the bureau of fire, one harness maker at $75 a month, one clerk, $75 a month; two stablemen, $60 a month; one assistant storekeeper, $60 a month; five matrons, $40 a month; in the bureau of health, one night clerk, $75 a month, five sanitary inspectors, each $75 a month; in the bureau of building inspection, one permit clerk, $75 a month; in the police bureau, one assistant clerk, $75 a month; two stablemen, $60 a month.

The estimate shows that the changes made by the finance committee will increase the annual expenses of the public safety department about $32,000 and the public safety department about $13,000. These increases will have to be provided out of the regular appropriations which further reduces the possibility of Controller Larkin preventing a deficiency this year.

HUNTING FOR HEIRS TO LARGE ESTATE

Mayor Haya has been asked to assist in finding the heirs of a large estate left by Edward Harvey, who lived in Pittsburgh about 20 years ago. Mayor Haya received a letter yesterday from Daniel Nevins, an attorney of Dayton, O., stating that Murphy had died and that there were no claimants for his property, which is considerable. The writer thought some relatives of Daniel might be found here.

DONAHOE AND KOCH GIVE BAIL FOR APPEARANCE

Councilman Was Excited and Talkative When He Appeared in Court.

The processes issued by the court of quarter sessions were served yesterday on Councilman Peter J. Donahoe and Dockmaster John Koch, and the men were taken into court by a sheriff's deputy to answer to the charge of illegal liquor selling. Mr. Donahoe and Mr. Koch both gave bail bond to answer to the court in case the grand jury brings in an indictment. Thomas J. Donahoe was security in both cases. A process was issued also for Edward Schmersal.

Donahoe was nervous, excited and angry when he got into court. He declared there would be all sorts of trouble over the matter and he promised to stir matters up in his efforts to ascertain who was behind the case.

District Attorney John C. Haymaker asked him if he had made a statement that the constable had been forced to make the return.

"Well," replied Donahoe, "the constable said that he was forced to put my name in the return."

"Did he say that Mr. Robb had compelled him to do so?" asked the district attorney.

"I don't know that he did, but I am going to find out who is back of this affair," was the reply.

Twelve citizens of the First ward were arraigned yesterday before Police Magistrate Thomas D. Stewart on the charge of being corner loafers or suspicious persons. They had been arrested after Peter J. Donahoe issued a call on the police to clean the ward of suspicious characters. As suspicious persons J. Hugh Callaghan, Joseph Fornes and James Richards were fined $10; Charles Schroeder was fined $5; Edward Bertram, C. B. Miller, C. Wilson, Hugh Burns, B. Schelbrick, John Harrity and Charles Haines were fined $5 each. Callaghan was indignant over his arrest. He declared he is a speculator and was born and reared in the Fourth ward.

Appointed to City Positions.

Director Harry Moore appointed Edward Brennan of the Twenty-third ward and James H. Fitzsimmons of the Eighth ward on the bureau of fire yesterday. Chief Miles Humphries will assign the men to their stations this morning. William J. Garrity of the Twenty-third ward, who was appointed as a fireman on Wednesday, resigned yesterday.

QUESTION STILL IN DOUBT.

Citizens Meeting to Figure Out a Majority Resulted in Nothing.

The Citizens party's members of select council held a meeting last night in the Third avenue headquarters. It was understood that it was to have been a caucus, but Thomas S. Bigelow, who with his brother, Edward M. Bigelow, was about the headquarters, but did not attend the meeting, said it was an advisory meeting, the possible precursor of similar weekly gatherings.

Evan Jones, the recent recruit to the Citizens party ranks, was there, but Councilman William Schempp failed to appear. Select Councilman Robert H. Douglas was also absent, and a third member did not show up. The meeting was to show that the Citizens party had a majority of the members of select council, but the absence of the three men leaves the question still in the air.

The Two Big Sales Today Are Clothes for Young Men and Clothes for Women.

Both at Greatly Reduced Prices.

The Clothes for Young Men.

This is a sale of stylish Summer Suits for young fellows from 15 to 20 years of age, and from 31 to 36-inch chest measure.

The suits are in the very latest Summer fashion, the cut is just what young men like, short coats with wide shoulder, snug fitting collar, trousers wide at thigh, small at bottom.

In what are called fancy suits there are cheviots and worsteds in light and dark colors. Here are the reductions:

$15 Suits for $12.
$20 Suits for $16.
$22 Suits for $18.
$25 Suits for $20.

For young men who like black, the reductions on black Thibet and black cheviot suits are as follows:

$15 Suits for $10.
$20 Suits for $16.
$22 Suits for $18.
$25 and $28 Suits for $22.

Some extra good Suits for boys, 14, 15, 16 years, long trousers at half prices, at $7.50 from $15, at $9 from $18.

Men and Their Nether Garments.

All the good kind of outer shirts, all the good kind of undershirts—both in medium grades that give good service and that cost but little money, both in finest grades from Europe and that will cost anyone quite a neat little sum—but not too much for the excellence of the garments. Being direct importers we know that our imported goods for men are sold far cheaper, very much cheaper, than in any stores around us that do not know what importing is.

The first thing we call attention to this morning is a number of high grade negligee shirts to be sold at reduced prices simply because the shirts are a bit soiled and mussed. The materials are white and colored madras and oxford. $1 each for shirts that sold for $1.50, and $2 and $1.50 each for shirts that sold for $2.50, $2.75 and $3.

In our regular line of Negligee Shirts none stands higher than the Manhattan. Several large shipments of these popular shirts just in. Madras and oxford and fine novelties—detached and attached cuffs; plain and pleated bosoms; plain white or colored. The price range is $1.50, $2 and up to $3.50.

The Star Shirt is another fine and stylish garment. All the newest designs and colorings, attached or detached cuffs; plain or pleated bosoms; some of the shirts with a low lay-down collar. Prices $1.50, $2 and up to $3.

Earl & Wilson's all-linen Shirts do not need any special introduction. They are the finest made. Plain white, plain tan and white, with narrow black stripes. Pleated bosoms, cuffs attached, shirts in coat style. Price $3.50.

The Homespun is a new Shirt this season, one that is undeniably swell. Price $3.50.

In Underwear for men everything that is desirable—nothing that we would not recommend to best dressers. Prices begin at 50c a garment for French and English Balbriggan, and get along easily to $2.0 a garment for the finest imported hand-made silk underwear.

Balbriggan Underwear, long and half sleeve shirts, regular and stout drawers, 50c, 75c, $1 and up to $2 each.

White Lisle Underwear, half sleeve, long sleeve and sleeveless shirts, $1 and $2 each.

I. & R. Morley's White Lisle Underwear, half sleeve shirts, one of the best English grades of underwear imported, $2.25 to $3.50 a garment.

Many men prefer Summer undergarments of very light wool textures. We have a score of different lines, and they are all inexpensive.

Men's Neckwear.

First of a special.

To-day silk Four-in-Hands and Batwing Ties, 35c each, or three for $1. The former prices were 50c and $1.

In the regular lines of course the 50c grade is the most popular. Always something new to show, not only at that price, but at all other prices for many different grades. Neckwear of Foulard Silk is just now very popular, being of very light texture and being very easy to tie. Shapes are Four-in-Hands and Club Ties, also Shield and Band Tecks.

The English Foulards come in Ascots, Four-in-Hands, Club and Bat Ties. Ascots sell for $1; Bat Ties and Four-in-Hands sell for 75c each.

Men's Socks, 15c Pr.

When we say 15c for a good black cotton sock we mean one that retails regularly for 20c a pair—we daresay there are some stores that sell the same socks for 25c.

This 15c Sock is a good shape and fast dye.

Then we have all the other good grades up to $7 for silk socks.

Men's Belts.

Pay 75c and get a harness belt—it is the fad. That sounds like dictating, and we wouldn't for the world assume to tell you what to buy. Therefore we will say that we have large assortments in all the newest styles in tan and black belts. Prices 50c and easily along to $4.50.

The Clothes for Women.

A continuation of yesterday's special sale, the variety including about every style of dress that women care for, from the every-day street suit up to the handsome gown for seaside wear.

All at such reduced prices as the following:

At $15 a suit instead of $25 in lot number 2—handsome and serviceable dress suits in all sorts of good materials and all colors.

$19 for Suits instead of $30 and $35 in lot number 3—beyond question the best array of suits ever collected. Many, very many, of these are made with silk drop skirt, as well as silk lined jackets. Too much emphasis cannot be given in praise of this collection.

$23.75 for Suits instead of $35 to $50 in lot number 4—this lot contains a great many fine semi-dress garments, in voiles, etamines, etc., as well as heavier and more serviceable cloths. Each suit in this group is of the most exclusive character in fabric, in trimming, in style, in workmanship. As a matter of fact, they are the equal of any we ever sold at $10 to $25 more.

The VOILE DRESSES AND SUITS, in white, cream, blue, tan, gray and black, plainly tailored or very handsomely and elaborately trimmed with lace, embroidery, pendants, shirrings, tuckings, etc., are every one made over silk, every one a model of its kind, and there is only one of each style.

Included in this sale are all the serge and flannel Jacket Suits in white and cream—appropriate for beach wear, at the following reductions:

Handsome Suits for $34 that were $50.
Handsome Suits for $39 that were $60.
Handsome Suits for $50 that were $70.
Handsome Suits for $59 that were $85.
Handsome Suits for $65 that were $95.
Handsome Suits for $72 that were $125.

New Neckwear for Women.

We have just received a full assortment of hand-made Stocks—all the newest shapes and patterns. Such materials as mull, lace and embroidery. Prices from $1 up to $6.

Very neat Washable Stocks for 75c. Of white linen, embroidered in French knots, double tabs, colors and white.

Soft Stocks of white linen, with turn-over collar, embroidered in white, $1.50.

New Top Collars of white linen, embroidered in contrasting colors, 25c and 50c.

Mull Top Collars, daintily embroidered by hand, 50c and up to $2.

Top Collars of very sheer mull, with cuffs to match, 50c a set and up to $2.50.

Lace collar and cuff sets, $2 a set and up to $8.

To-day there will be another special table laden with Washable Stocks, 25c and 50c each.

Men's Pajamas, $1.

Because these pajamas are so very good, made of the excellent quality of madras, night suits that always sell for $1.50, we mention this particular line first. If you have never used pajamas the time is opportune to give them a trial. You never invested a $1 to a better purpose.

Other Pajamas, of finer goods and workmanship, $1.50, $2 and up to $12 a suit.

Italian Shell Combs, 25c Each.

Singular how close this Italian shell comes to the real tortoise—just as close as gold plate to the genuine metal. How many can tell the difference?

An entire table to-day devoted to the selling of Italian shell combs, barrettes, stray lock combs and pectineum combs.

There's fine choice for 25c.

Cutlein, 25c a Bottle.

It appears that while the public service corporations think it all right to get the use of public property for nothing and to be exempted from taxation upon their own property, they set a high value upon the privileges for which they pay nothing and this complicates the question of the removal of the hump. The cutting down of the grade there will involve the lowering of gas mains, electric conduits and street car tracks, and this is an element of cost which is now being calculated. It would be an interesting situation if this desirable improvement should be stayed by the value of privileges the city gives away.

Everybody is satisfied over the proceedings of the Ohio Republican convention, and the party enters the campaign with no feuds to distract its energies. Senator Hanna has realized that the Roosevelt indorsement to which he was at first opposed is a motor whose energy will be felt throughout the canvass, and he is happy that he got in right at last on that question. Any suspicion of antagonism to Roosevelt is a handicap to any party appealing for popular support. The result of the election will show that the Roosevelt boom is in good working order.

The erection of shelter houses in the parks is a good step toward the provision of the public comforts with which the parks should be supplied. The Gazette has often called attention to the great deficiency of the parks in this respect, and it is gratifying that some improvement is taking place. Much more than shelter houses are needed however. There should be restaurants, playgrounds and facilities for public refreshment and recreation. The parks are not made as enjoyable for the people as they should be. The principal attractions are now the conservatories in Schenley park and the zoo in Highland park. In both parks there should be tasteful buildings for the sale of light refreshments and there should be some high-class restaurants, where more elaborate meals could be had.

The rivers are falling rapidly in Kansas, but the flood is now swelling the Mississippi, which is rising rapidly at St. Louis. The crest of the flood is expected Sunday, when a stage of 36 feet or more may be reached. There has been so long a warning of its approach that the people ought to be fully prepared for it, and loss reduced to the lowest possible extent. It has been an exceptional season so far, both as regards the drought in the east and the excessive rainfall in the west. At the present moment extensive forest fires are raging in Maine and Vermont, owing to the extreme dryness of the country from lack of rain. Although not so productive of loss of life, the property loss through drought is probably larger than from the floods.

President Roosevelt made a brief stay in Pittsburgh yesterday, but short as it was popular enthusiasm contrived to manifest itself and elicited a brief acknowledgment. Cordial greetings attended him all along his route to Washington. His trip across the continent has been a memorable one and has produced marked effects upon the political situation. His popularity is so great that it has swept away all opposition in the ranks of his own party, and he is more acceptable to either of the extreme Democratic factions than they are to each other. The Cleveland faction prefer Roosevelt to Bryan and the Bryanites prefer Roosevelt to Cleveland. The Roosevelt party is at present bigger than either the Republican or the Democratic party, and it does not seem that any possible combination of political elements could be made strong enough to defeat Roosevelt.

As the authorities get deeper into the details of free delivery management disclosures thicken. It is well known that Postmaster General Payne did not think there was anything serious in the original charges, and the investigation did not become really effective in disclosures until George W. Beavers, superintendent of salaries and allowances, suddenly resigned March 24. The next important stage in the progress of the investigation was the removal of Gen. James H. Tyner, April 22, as a result of the riffing of the safe in his office. Superintendent of Free Delivery Machen was suspended May 8 and summarily removed May 27, and criminal charges are now pending against him. Yesterday Thomas W. McGregor, in charge of rural free delivery supplies, and C. Ellsworth Upton, one of his assistants, were arrested on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the government. This series of events attest the thoroughness of the investigation and the determination of the administration to detect and punish graft in all its ramifications. Disclosures will now probably accumulate rapidly, as the ring is broken up, its managers are helpless and fresh avenues of information are opening.

The grand jury yesterday returned an indictment against Mr. Machen, in connection with his participation in profits on government contracts for letter box fasteners. The amount which he is charged with having received illegally is $18,987 79. As the penalty of the offense may be fixed at a fine of three times the amount received, together with imprisonment, not more than three years, Mr. Machen is in a serious position. He at once gave bail in $20,000 and his counsel say that he has a good defense, which would have been presented had he been granted a hearing before the United States commissioner, but now that an indictment has been returned the course which his counsel will pursue will not be made known in advance of the trial. Mr Machen denies that he received any payments from the contractors for the letter box fastener, and says that the checks which the postoffice inspectors regard as proof of such payments were really in pursuance of legitimate business operations connected with some mining interests. The trial is set for October, and Mr. Machen's rather complicated business transactions will probably then be fully ventilated.

The Pittsburgh Plague.

We recently called attention to the fact that Pittsburgh had a much larger death rate from typhoid fever than any other city in the country. The disease itself is not usually fatal, and the large death rate indicates that the amount of sickness from this cause must be appallingly extensive, entailing a heavy charge upon the resources of our people. It is not too much to say that typhoid fever is the Pittsburgh plague.

Typhoid fever is not a contagious disease. To get it one must swallow the germ. The dictum of medical authority is that "you can eat typhoid, you can drink typhoid, but you cannot catch typhoid." The channel for the transmission of typhoid is the water supply. We present some instructive data today showing how promptly purification of water supply cuts down typhoid fever.

In 1888, Lawrence, Mass., had a typhoid fever death rate of 113.6 per 100,000 of population. It rose to 126.6 in 1889, and to 134.4 in 1890. Under the influence of sanitary precautions the rate declined to 119.4 in 1891 and to 105.2 in 1892. A filtration plant was installed in 1893 and at once the death rate from typhoid fever dropped to 79.6, the next year it dropped to 47.5, and it has kept dropping until 1902 it was down to 17.

In 1885 Albany put in a filtration plant. At that time its typhoid fever death rate was 165.8. Since then the rate has been as follows: 1886, 99.; 1897, 87.7; 1898, 94.; 1899, 87.5; 1900, 51.; 1901, 24.; 1902, 28. The rate at both Lawrence and Albany now is not larger than enough to cover imported cases, indicating that the regular, local water supply is no longer a source of infection.

While other typhoid-scourged cities have escaped through filtration, Pittsburgh has done nothing, and while their death rates have been going down the Pittsburgh rate is going up. In 1895, when Albany put in a filtration plant, its rate was 165.3; the Pittsburgh rate was only 77.4. But while the Albany rate has been on the drop, the Pittsburgh rate has been on the climb. It was 124.7 in 1901, 130.8 in 1902 and for the first four months of the present year it reached 137.5. The contrast is certainly striking. With filtration, the Lawrence typhoid death rate has dropped from 165.3 in 1892 to 17. in 1902; Albany has dropped from 165.3 in 1895 to 28. in 1902. Pittsburgh has gone up from 77.4 in 1895 to 137.5 at the present time, and we are still talking instead of doing. The Pittsburgh plague will not be stayed until public sentiment forces councils to pass those ordinances and make filtration an accomplished fact. There is no adequate excuse for delay. There are plenty of funds in hand to start the work and continue it for a long time. If more money is needed to complete the work it can be provided, but there is no sense in borrowing it now to lay on deposit.

The Zionist Movement.

The Zionist convention, which begins its sessions this evening, meets at a time when public sympathy with the movement has been greatly stirred by the events of the times. The persecutions to which the Jewish race is subjected in some countries and the compulsory redistribution of the territorial settlement of the race now going on invest the purposes of the Zionist movement with great interest for the people of the United States.

The Zionist movement is associated in the popular mind with the return of the Jews to Palestine and the founding of a restored Jewish state, but while Zionists generally seek to foster the national idea in Judaism, the project of a restored Jewish state in Palestine is regarded by many as not being sufficiently practicable to warrant concentration of effort in that direction. Zionism aims at the betterment of the Jewish race everywhere, and is much older than the Palestine project, although it is that which has attracted general notice to the Zionist movement. It was at a Zionist congress in Switzerland in 1896 that the scheme of a restored Jewish state was formulated. It was set forth that "the aim of Zionism is to create for the Jewish people a publicly, legally assured home in Palestine," and with that in view the Zionist organization would promote "the settlement in Palestine of Jewish agriculturalists, handicraftsmen, industrialists and men following professions." At that congress Rabbi S. Schaffer of Baltimore was the only American delegate, and this phase of Zionism does not appear to have commended itself to American Jews. The restoration of a Jewish state is not a political aspiration which appeals to them. Consideration of such opportunities as Palestine may offer for Jewish settlement is part of the general purposes of American Zionism, but there is little sympathy for the idea of a general return of the Jewish race to Palestine.

It is well known that the Jewish race overflowed Palestine long before the Christian era. That country is too small and its resources are too meager to accommodate a race of such expansive vigor as the Jews, and centuries before the final extinction of the Jewish state the majority of the race lived outside of its area. There is no reason for expecting that the case will ever be otherwise, but an extensive resettlement of Palestine by the Jews is not at all impossible. A number of colonies have in fact been planted there. Much more encouraging, however, is the prospect opened by the approaching development of Mesopotamia. Lands now thinly inhabited are capable of supporting populous communities, and there will be room and subsistence for millions of people. Great changes will certainly occur throughout Asia minor during the present century, and these changes may present a Jewish race opportunity not now discernible.

The Business Situation.

Several railroad stocks which are ranked as the highest investments of their kind in the world, this week sold down to the lowest average prices in three years. At the same time a group of stocks that have been classed as speculative also declined, one of them to the lowest ever quoted. The shrinkage in market values has been enormous, representing many million dollars. The effect could not be otherwise than disturbing. Those who have their securities locked up in strong boxes, and whose income therefrom has not been and is not likely to be diminished by a dollar, are sentimentally affected by the knowledge that the market value is less than it was a week or month ago. Those who occasionally make use of their stocks and bonds as security for loans in bank are directly affected by reduced borrowing power. A third class, who have speculated for a turn, and who have been forced to liquidate margined accounts have suffered heavy and absolute loss. Thus the number sentimentally and actually affected by the shrinkage in stock market values is very large. Naturally, their view of affairs outside the market is colored by their position from within, and their circle of influence is enlarged. There is a contagion in depression as well as in cheerfulness. Largely for this reason a less optimistic feeling is entertained regarding the general business situation.

And yet it would puzzle the most acute to discover any new developments in industrial or commercial affairs to warrant the extreme pessimism flowing through Wall street. The most serious thing that has happened has been the damage to the cotton crop, the government reporting the lowest average condition on record for this season of the year. This is one of our most important staple exports, having a bearing upon our financial as well as commercial position, for the reason that we depend upon foreign shipments during the last four months of the year to make exchange and turn the international current of specie in our favor. The situation, however, has been discounted by the unusually high prices quoted for the commodity and by the increase in our exports of corn, which should to a considerable extent offset the falling off in exports of cotton. Extensive damage has also been wrought in the Mississippi and Missouri valleys, but the acreage of winter wheat was so large it is not probable that even if the worst fears are realized the yield will fall below the average of previous years. Corn planting was backward, but with favorable conditions during the remainder of the season there is ample time for the maturing of a large crop. The industrial situation is no worse than it was a week or two ago, new strikes being offset by the settlement of old ones.

There is nothing really alarming in money market conditions. The declining prices and liquidation in the stock market have improved the financial situation, so far as the banks are concerned, and the "house cleaning" has occurred at a time when it caused less disturbance than would have been the case if it had taken place four months later, when the money market feels the strain of moving crops. Whatever the real underlying cause of the liquidation in stocks—whether over-speculation, the settlement of personal resentments, or preparation for the unexpected next year—it has been accompanied by nothing of a panicky character. The decline has been distributed throughout the past six months. It has finally established a level of values that was regarded as normal three years ago, before the era of prosperity, and it is probably very near the end of its course.

Church Building Boom.

One has only to keep track of the current news of this immediate section to discover that a veritable church building boom is on in Allegheny county. Not a week passes that there is not a corner stone laying in Pittsburgh or in some of the neighboring boroughs, while for the past four or five Sundays there have been three or four important dedicatory services held in various parts of the county. Today Homestead is to lay the corner stone of a new Presbyterian house of worship, while yesterday ground was broken for the first of the structures to be built for the parish of Corpus Christi in this city. Last Sunday there were two or three dedications and tomorrow will witness still other houses of worship set apart for religious use. In Pittsburgh perhaps the most conspicuous building enterprise in connection with the activity in church building is the work of laying the foundation for the Catholic cathedral at Fifth avenue and Craig street, which will support the superstructure of one of the finest religious temples in this country. But the building prosperity is not confined to one or even several of the various denominations. There seems to be a disposition on the part of church workers of all faiths in this district to provide where needed handsome houses of worship, and pretty soon Allegheny county, already noted for its literality in this particular, will become famous as the home of fine churches.

The general prosperity that is enjoyed in every line of secular business undoubtedly has much to do with the activity in church building. Church members find themselves better able to contribute to the cause of religion, and with practical foresight they let their liberality find expression first in the work of beautifying and adorning their home places of worship. There is also a growing interest among church people in architecture as a means of embodying their religious zeal and the desire to give permanency to their church relations. Pittsburgh has long boasted a few of the handsomest church structures in the country, and under the influence of the present activity that number will be largely increased. Beyond the particular significance that a church building is supposed to bear in its relation to the life and thought of a community there is a certain aesthetic value in the general architectural outlines of a city or town that should not be lost sight of. In the appeal to the eye and in the sense of substantiality and architectural harmony that a beautiful church structure affords in the general aspect of a modern city there is real advantage and comfort.

Of course, the prime consideration in the present church building boom in Allegheny county is, after all, the fact that it indicates growth and advancement in the moral and intellectual activities of the people.

Lawlessness in Kentucky.

While cherishing the fact that decent judges do still live in Kentucky, we cannot blind ourselves that there is one spot in an American commonwealth where disregard for the law, where failure to enforcement of it, and where flagrant injustice has been as pronounced, in proportion to the state of civilization in the two countries, as it has been in Russia and Macedonia. Might we not, therefore, be doing a commendable public service if we should put the pressure of an outraged public opinion upon Kentucky in an effort to compel her to right a condition with which she now seems hardly dissatisfied?—Baltimore American.

THE BAREFOOT BOY.

The barefoot boy is coming, and right now he has the blues,
Because his cautious mother will not let him shed his shoes.
He's anxious for the freedom of the barefoot boy at dawn,
Who does not have to bother with the footwear girls put on.
He wants to wade in water every morning when he goes
To school with other youngsters, and get mud between his toes.

The barefoot boy is coming, and ere long he will be here,
With feet as tough and dirty as they could be made, I fear.
He'll have stone bruises on them and will oft be walking lame;
And yet you may be certain he'll be happy just the same.
He'll stub a toe quite often, yet a little thing like that Won't cause him for a moment! He'll be Johnny at the bat!

The barefoot boy is coming, and if you were once a boy
You know that when we see him we will find him full of joy.
He will not mind the bruises! Has not every youngster paid—
In injured feet—full values for the chance he got to wade!
He will not mind mosquitoes, nor for briar patenes care;
And he will sneer at stockings—when his sunburned feet are bare.

The Quiet Observer.

ERASMUS WILSON.

"The utmost we can expect of the painter in the presence of nature is a strong and original impression, and that he shall then transmute it for the joy and delight of the crowd. If he have the ability he will succeed; if not, God help him."

So says Theodore Child in his "Art and Criticism," and he says well.

The man or woman who fails in this life needs superhuman help.

But will they get it?

Doubtful, unless they happen to be confirmed incompetents and considered worthy objects for charitable aid and assistance.

Would you buy the work of an incompetent artist—incompetent through lack of power, or through negligence? Will anyone buy it? Should anyone buy it?

Then, what right have you to expect anyone to invest in your work unless it is well done?

What can you do well?

* * * * *

Painters of pictures, and those who deal in the workmanship of those who profess and claim to be artists, are continually complaining because the people won't come and buy.

Can you blame them for not buying some of the stuff you see in windows and on the walls of art stores?

Are you willing or anxious to buy a painting that does not truthfully represent anything on earth, or above the earth, or under the earth, or in the waters below, nor in the air above?

Do you want a study of a female in your room whose features and dress indicate that the original must have escaped from the seclusion of an asylum? At any rate, if you should meet her in one of your rambles through wood and field, your first impulse would be to take to your heels; or else, to pity, call a constable and have her placed under cover.

And yet that sort of art is expected to sell, and the makers of it complain because the people won't buy.

These weird, wild-eyed artists are forever charging the people with being short on good taste, and having no feeling for art.

You may remember a picture that took mighty well with the people, the title of which was "Breaking Home Ties." It got into the world's fair exhibit at Chicago, much to the disgust and annoyance of some of the more hyper-artistic artists. They said it wasn't anything but claptrap and not art at all.

It may not have been high art, but it was very strongly in evidence that it was about as high as the hearts of the people, and that is quite high—much higher than a great many poor artists ever get.

Anyway, if that sort of work is claptrap, then give us more of it and less of the sickly, simpering, silly girl style of art. A picture of a real homely home is better for children, and for all of us, to look upon than pictures of men and women that suggest nothing good or pure, or useful. Pictured fiction is no less harmful than written fiction, and it may be even more harmful, because it is admitted into homes under the guise of art, where equally unwholesome printed fiction would not be tolerated for a moment.

It is not uncommon to find pictures in homes the written descriptions of which would be regarded as indecent and vicious.

Would you have your daughters model their dress and manner after the pictures you have given them to look upon and to study? Would you allow them to pose as living pictures, modeled after the figures you have posed in your parlor, library and living rooms?

It is the truth in a picture that gives it value, the same as it is truth that gives vaule to everything in life. The falseness in a picture will not appeal to your heart, but it may appeal to your animal nature.

Can it be that those who paint such pictures are merely picturing their own feelings, or that which they take to be the art feeling in the community in which they work and upon which they expect to draw for current expenses?

The critic stood, with scornful eye,
Before a picture on the wall;
"You call that art? Why, see the fly
Is not natural at all!

"It has too many legs—its head
Is far too large—who ever saw
A fly like that—its color red!
And wings that look as if they—pshaw!"

And with a gesture of disgust
He waved his hand when lo! the fly
Flew from the picture. "Ah, some dust,"
The critic said, "was in my eye!"

* * * * *

There is always a disposition to exploit the unnatural, the unusual and the unnecessary. But let a freak bob up above the horizon and the world of letters, art and business welcomes it with joyous acclaim. And, greatly to our own credit, these freaks are so promptly dropped after being pumped dry, tried out and thoroughly exhausted. But what of lasting good can there be in a freak?

Would you like to be a freak, even if there was lots of notoriety and some money in it? Now and then a lady steps over the line and poses, not as a man, but as a woman imitating a man. People run to see her do something that doesn't belong to woman's work. She is applauded and fussed over until she is spoiled, and then she drops out of sight, not being acceptable to either men or women.

Recently the papers have been printing a lot of stuff about the governor of a western state making a handsome, spirited young woman a colonel of militia. She is described as a splendid horsewoman, a clever singer and a society pet.

How would you like to have her for a wife? Do you think she would make your home quiet and heartsome?

My wife went to college to be an M. D.,
And when she'd become one she came back to me,
And, of course, while the subject was strongest upon her,
She "diagnozed" me—and I guess I'm a goner.

She said that she "feared I had endocarditis,
With traces of neuro-dichroic cystitis;
There were osseous abnormal sphenoidal dimensions,
With ecchymosed hypno-nephritic retentions."

She said I had "anchylosed, neurosed gastritis,
Hepatic stagnation, acute meningitis,
Meningeal hemorrhage, clearly pre-natal,
Locomotor ataxia, lingering, but fatal."

She said I "inclined toward brain aberration.
When cardiac murmurs disturbed circulation."
Then added, in time "she would be more explicit."
But I said "Nit, old girl, this is quantum sufficit!"
—Lancet.

Recantation of Andrews.

F. Benjamin Andrews, who, as president of Brown university, made himself the subject of widespread discussion in 1896 by publicly proclaiming his adherence to the doctrine of free silver at 16 to 1, is quoted as explicitly retracting his former statement, and as admitting that he committed an "inexcusable error" when he declared that the supply of gold was inadequate to afford a basis for the currency system of the United States. While he deserves credit for his frank recantation, says the Philadelphia Bulletin, his words do not fully atone for the rashness in his original action. As a scholar of repute and the head of an important institution of learning seven years ago, he was under a moral obligation to be at least reasonably sure of his facts before he launched out in support of a policy which would have paralyzed business and dealt a stunning blow to public and private credit. It will be interesting to see what Bryan has to say regarding the conversion of his former champion, who is now chancellor of the university of Nebraska. He can hardly expect the public to believe that Dr. Andrews has been purchased by the "money interests."

Bridges and Navigation.

The idea of raising the bridges over the Allegheny at Pittsburgh and at intervening points between that place and Oil City, is simply nonsensical, says the Oil City Blizzard. There is no demand for it whatever. Consultation of the records of the weather bureau at Pittsburgh shows that during the past nine years free navigation of the Allegheny would have been interfered with by the bridges alone on an average of only five days each year.

All in the Point of View.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel.

The New Orleans Picayune charges the north with taking Booker Washington as an "ordinary type of his race." Not at all. But we do take Mr. Washington as one of the evidences that his race is capable of development, and is therefore entitled to an even chance to develop.

Talked of in New York

GEORGE C. JENKS.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—New York girls and their physical instructors are discussing the assertion of Miss Alice Snyder, director of the gymnasium at the University of Michigan, that physical exercise makes feminine waists smaller. Several physical trainers here have expressed themselves, but none of them think a girl can lessen her waist measure by turning flip-flops or hanging by a trapeze by her toes. There are other exercises in physical culture than those I have mentioned, of course, but all of them are included in the negative opinion of the experts in bodily training. Schools for girls in this city which are conducted on modern principles generally have a gymnasium attached, so that the question of the effects of physical exercise on the waist line is of general interest. From all that can be learned or observed in this city, young women who take up a determined course of physical experimenting do not find that they get smaller anywhere. All of them who have given testimony to be printed insist that they gain in weight after a few weeks of training in a gymnasium and that their shoulders, arms and ankles all show an appreciable increase in size. Half a dozen teachers of physical culture, with a handful of doctors of both sexes in Manhattan, have been interviewed and they agree with singular unanimity that training in the gymnasium has for its object the general improvement of health with no reference to the waist line. Why should a young woman care whether her waist is 27 inches or 30, so long as she is in good health. That is what doctors and teachers want to know.

Pittsburghers on the Cymric.

The White Star liner Cymric got away for Liverpool today with a large passenger list. Among those who sailed were Mrs. D. W. Harris and her daughter, Miss Bessie, of Pittsburgh. The Cymric waved a farewell to the Deutschland, stuck in the mud off the Hook, so a tugboatman reported tonight.

Praying for Rain.

Special prayers for rain were held in all the city churches today. The situation is becoming serious, for the authorities have requested people to be more than ordinarily careful in saving of water. The city began to draw on its reserve supply on May 1, and there has been no rain to replenish the reservoirs since that date. Economy in water at all times is recognized as a duty on the part of residents in every city, but when the water supply department sends out a special warning it is an indication that a famine may not be very far away.

Getting to Be an Old Story.

Another of those Vanderbilt valets is in trouble. It seems to be a fad for men who get into the clutches of the police on find themselves in any other unpleasant predicament to say that they have been in the service of a Vanderbilt as a valet, butler or what not. The particular individual who was arraigned in the Yorkville police court today on a charge of forgery said he was formerly butler and valet for George Vanderbilt.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

At a fire in Harlem this morning a man broke through the fire lines and tried to get into the house. Two policemen threw themselves upon him and hustled him into the background. The man insisted that he lived in the house, that his wife and children were in danger and he must rescue them. The policemen took the man to the police station and locked him up. The fire was put out and the man's family were not hurt. When the prisoner was brought before the magistrate later and told his story his honor discharged him with the assurance that he had behaved properly in trying to get into the house. The policemen were crestfallen.

Getting Used to Smoke.

Weather-wise persons predict that New York will suffer under the yellow haze for two more days. It does not matter much. Everyone here has got used to the smell of smoke and do not mind it more than if they were all Pittsburghers.

Taking Things Easy on the Deutschland.

Word comes from the Deutschland that the passengers spent the day idling about the decks and passing the time as if they were on their way. After all, life on a great liner is such a smooth affair, with stewards and other servitors to do everything for the convenience of the passengers, that a few days more or less does not make any particular difference, unless there is some important business to be transacted on the other side at a certain time. One comforting assurance on every modern ocean greyhound is that the larder is sure to be well supplied.

Not the Famous Jim Brady.

Poor Jim Brady! He was killed by a train at Larchmont a few days ago, and although he was only a pauper in the Westchester almshouse at the time of his demise, there was a halo of glory about his memory, because he was said to have been Jim Brady, the bank robber, who had had a hand in breaking into the Manhattan bank many years ago and had distinguished himself by many feats of similar rascality in the course of a long criminal career. With such a record as that and the world being told of it in big newspaper headlines, surely a man could afford to die. Now it turns out that the Jim Brady killed last week was not the bank hero, but a mean little horsethief who had never even got to Sing Sing, but had been immured in the county jail a few times had never been worthy of a paragraph in Supt. Byrne's celebrated book of criminals nor of a place in the rogues' gallery. Poor Jim Brady. And how his family must suffer now that the insignificance of their dead relative has been made public property.

Dividing Up the Tenderloin.

Police Commissioner Greene is determined to cut the Tenderloin into two precincts. He made this suggestion some time ago, but little was thought about it until it came up officially today before the board of estimate, with Mayor Low presiding. The matter was referred to the comptroller. The commissioner thinks the present Nineteenth—or Tenderloin—precinct is too large for one captain to look after. Probably he is right, now that the "graft" is, or is supposed to be, a thing of the past. The Tenderloin is a big contract for any one man, even with the gambling houses closed and Ed Cory, late of the Haymarket, become a country gentleman.

The Ohio Idea.

For several years Senator Hanna has been originating the battle cries of the Republicans of Ohio. This year he says to those who would bring to naught Republican principles and policies, "Hands off." To the Republicans of the state, he says, "Stand guard."

The keynote, as it is called, of the Republican campaign, was given tersely and with unusual force by Senator Hanna. He condensed into a few words the vital principles and the history of the Republican party when he said that Republicanism means "human liberty and protection to American industries and our workingmen." And so there was given another phrase from the greatest phrasemaker in Ohio politics.

The platform and the ticket are satisfactory, and now the Republicans of the state will go forward to their duty. They will elect a general assembly that will return Mr. Hanna to the United States senate, they will make Myron T. Herrick governor, and they will support Theodore Roosevelt with enthusiasm and fidelity in his candidacy for the presidency next year.—Cleveland Leader.

+ + + +

Ohio is for Roosevelt's nomination. Ohio is also for the protective tariff and Ohio does not believe in "ripping" up the tariff act under which we have become the most prosperous nation on the face of the earth.

Ohio but supplements the action of the Republican state convention of Pennsylvania. With Pennsylvania, New York and Ohio united there can be no triumphant opposition.

The action of Ohio but indorses and joins hands with the action of the greatest manufacturing state in the union—Pennsylvania. Peace, prosperity, protection, advancement, new markets—that is a good enough battle cry.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

+ + + +

It was peculiarly incumbent on Ohio Republicans to make an early acknowledgment of the scrupulous fidelity with which the president has fulfilled his promise to carry out the policies of McKinley, and that might have been sufficient if the question of commending him to the acceptance of the national convention a year hence had not been raised. Having been raised, only one answer was appropriate, as Senator Hanna clearly perceived when he had given the matter due attention. It is greatly to his credit, not that he so commended the administration without long delay, but that when the time came to speak for the party in his state and for himself he spoke with a sincerity beyond suspicion.

The Columbus convention, faithful to the traditions of Ohio Republicanism, has done its appointed work in a straightforward manner, offering no advantage to the enemy and confirming anew a long-established claim to the confidence of the party in every state.—New York Tribune.

+ + + +

Ohio joins the steadily increasing and already controlling list of states which either this year or last in their Republican conventions have pronounced in favor of a nomination of Theodore Roosevelt as the Republican candidate for president in 1904.

The platform adopted is a Republican platform. The deliverance on the tariff is explicit and sound. It declares in language that admits of no misinterpretation that protection as a principle and a policy must be administered by the friends of American prosperity and must not be sacrificed. It, however, the platform declares, is subject to changing conditions and a readjustment of schedules in the interest of reciprocity. This is sound doctrine. Protection as a feature of tariff legislation is here to stay, but it is no Procrustean bed. It is subject always to new conditions and is subordinate to common sense.—Philadelphia Press.

+ + + +

Ohio's indorsement of Mr. Roosevelt for 1904 is seriously qualified by Mr. Hanna's warning that as to the sacred Dingley tariff everybody, including Mr. Roosevelt, must "keep letting it alone." Will Mr. Roosevelt, who not long since was advocating a permanent commission of tariff revisers, accept this qualification? More important still, will the party in Iowa and other states suffering under the schedules that "afford a shelter to monopoly" accept the Hanna fiat that not one of them shall be touched?—New York World.

+ + + +

The plank that will appeal to the workman, manufacturer and farmer is the tariff plank. As Senator Hanna aptly put it in his vigorous address, "Hands off." His utterance and the utterance of the platform is clear. Ohio has prospered and developed under a protective tariff as the great McKinley knew it would do. Its wealth has been enormously increased and its people have been made happy. The darkening sky of a decade ago has cleared, and the sun shines with a brilliancy never before known in the commercial history of the world. That is why the tariff plank is greatest, and that is why Ohio Republicans want all people, no matter what their party affiliation may be, to keep "Hands off."—East Liverpool (O.) Tribune.

+ + + +

The platform of the Ohio Republicans almost defies the Dingley tariff. It is the protective tariff policy of the Republicans that "has made the United States the greatest industrial nation." Our natural resources, the industry and genius of our people are left quite out of the account. We owe everything to the tariff, therefore the Ohio platform opposes all attacks upon it "as tending to bring back the disastrous days of Democratic tariff revision and free trade." As for the trusts, why, they can be made harmless by the enforcement of Republican laws. At any rate, our industries shall not be destroyed by tinkering with the tariff.—New York Times.

+ + + +

Nobody who knows Senator Hanna will question the sincerity and depth of his faith in the protective tariff system. He believes in his inmost soul that it is the foundation cause and the abiding force of our national prosperity, and looks upon every man who questions that view as an enemy of his country, either through ignorance, or malice, or both. He not only shouts to all such, "hands off," and for "God's sake keep your hands off," but he shouts to the Democrats, "If you get in the way we will run over you." It is impossible for anybody who is in touch with American sentiment today to deny that Senator Hanna is in thorough accord with it. An overwhelming majority of the people do demand that hands be kept off the tariff, do demand that well enough be let alone.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Menace of Socialism.

Socialism is winning converts, not only in Massachusetts, but in other states. It is already a political factor of sufficient importance to command the serious attention of wise politicians in the two leading parties. For, while it may not be able next year, or in any other year, to carry a state, it may hold the balance of power in one or more states. And it might happen to play the role that was successfully essayed by the Prohibition party in 1884, when it brought about the election of Cleveland to the presidency.—Democracy's first post-bellum victory—by landing New York in the Democratic column.—Washington Post.

"An' what wuz the old man doin' all that time?"

"Sweatin' in dialect!"—Atlanta Constitution.

"What made Henpeck so gloomy during the commencement exercises?"

"I don't know, unless it was because the organist happened to strike up 'Hail to the Chief' just as his wife entered the hall."

WORK RESUMED ON PEST HOUSE

Director Moore Notified Contractors to Start Today to Enlarge Municipal Hospital.

THIRTEENTH WARD BEATEN

Administration Takes Steps to Defeat Proposed Removal to Robinson Township—Physicians, Township Authorities and Others Protest.

Director Harry Moore of the department of public safety yesterday notified Kerr & Fox, contractors, to renew their work on the construction of the new municipal hospital, stopped last fall by residents of the Thirteenth ward obtaining an injunction. This injunction was dismissed this week and the contractors will start work today.

The fierce assault made simultaneously from several quarters at a meeting of the finance committee of councils yesterday afternoon furnished additional evidence that the Thirteenth ward contingent is making a hopeless struggle.

Local physicians, the authorities of Robinson township and representatives of property interests in Robinson township protested against the proposed removal of the municipal hospital to Robinson township, and a number of serious objections were raised by the members of the finance committee.

WORKING FOR THE REMOVAL.

A delegation of residents of the Thirteenth ward and Supt. Samuel Andrews, the owner of the proposed hospital site, which he wishes to sell to the city for $25,000, presented their side of the case.

James M. Moore, James Aiken and W. J. Phillips, members of the school board and health boards of Robinson township, were also on hand to protest. Mr. Moore said he made the assessment of the Andrews farm for 1900 and had assessed the property at $8,585, which is nearly one-third the price at which it is offered to the city.

Attorney J. M. Swearingen said he was instructed to employ all legal measures to keep the pesthouse out of the township. He said that all the drainage of the Andrews farm went into Moon run and that if the pesthouse were located on the Andrews farm all the refuse from it would be carried down Moon run through the Moon Run mining village of 1,200 people, at the mines of the Pittsburgh Coal Company. Mr. Swearingen stated that the pesthouse on the Andrews farm would also be a menace to children compelled to pass to school and also to the people who pass on the way to church.

PHYSICIANS LODGE A PROTEST.

Dr. W. J. Asdale of the East End, a former physician of the bureau of health and a member of the staff of Passavant hospital, said that he is opposed to removing the hospital to any point outside of the city, and that it should have as central a location as possible.

"It would be more merciful to kill them outright," he stated, "than to put patients suffering with acute fever, such as smallpox, and haul them over a country road for 10 miles on a hot summer day in an ambulance."

Dr. Asdale said every hospital physician in the city knows the danger of exhaustion from a long haul in an ambulance. Dr. W. finively said the Thirteenth ward people were mistaken in the notion that the pesthouse threatened the neighborhood. He said that the danger did not come from well-developed cases of smallpox isolated and properly treated, but from mild cases of the disease, not serious enough to make a patient ill.

DISEASE ON STREET CARS.

"There is not a doctor in the city who cannot point out cases of varioloid on the street cars almost every day. It is these cases that are spreading the disease. A municipal hospital is intended to prevent the spread of disease and with a hospital properly equipped and conducted there is no danger whatever to any person living in the neighborhood."

R. C. McConnell, attorney for the Pittsburgh Coal Company, the Moon Run railroad and other property interests in Robinson township, said that the exact distance to the Andrews farm from the court house was almost 11 miles. Supt. Andrews interrupted him, stating that it was only seven miles.

Mr. McConnell stated that patients could be taken to the Andrews farm only by the county road, as the railroads would refuse to carry them, being prohibited by a state law from hauling persons afflicted with contagious diseases. The attorney said the coal company objected to the establishment of a pesthouse near the mining town of Moon Run, claiming it would drive out their miners and spread contagion throughout the entire neighborhood.

THIRTEENTH WARD DELEGATION.

W. C. McEldowney and William McElhaney spoke for the Thirteenth ward delegation. Mr. McEldowney told of the fight made by the Thirteenth ward for two years to get rid of the hospital. He declared that one-third of all cases of smallpox came from the Thirteenth ward. Dr. W. J. Burke of the hill district said that at the time a smallpox patient is taken to the hospital the disease is not far enough advanced to make him weak and that he was able to stand a long trip.

Thomas M. Brown, a member of the finance committee, after conferring with councilmen from the Thirteenth ward, offered a motion that action on the ordinance for the purchase of the Andrews farm be postponed until a further investigation had been made and that a subcommittee of five be appointed for this purpose.

Chairman W. H. Stevenson appointed as members of the sub-committee: Thomas M. Brown, W. J. Zahniser, Charles Stewart, W. C. Reitz and J. P. Shaw. The majority of this committee is supposed to be unfriendly to a change of the location of the hospital.

HARBOR LINES ACCEPTED.

New Boundaries of the Local Rivers Were Favored at Washington.

Capt. William L. Sibert, local United States engineer in charge of the river improvements of this district, received word from the secretary of war that the local harbor line submitted several weeks ago had been approved. The new line runs from the Smithfield street bridge on the Monongahela river side around the Point to the Ninth street bridge on the Allegheny side. From the Smithfield street bridge the line runs 35 feet from the outside curb parallel with it to Liberty avenue. From Liberty avenue the line runs identical with the old line around the Point to Fourth street on the Allegheny river side. From Fourth street it goes back to within 35 feet of the curb and parallel with it to Ninth street. The old harbor lines ran from the Smithfield street bridge around the Point to Ninth street, about 25 feet from the low-water mark. They were not accurately marked.

The rivermen have been fighting for several years to have the harbor lines put back to the curb so as to insure a wharf for the rivers. They were willing that the harbor line should be far enough back on the Allegheny side to permit the Pennsylvania railroad to build overhead tracks without using Duquesne way. But on the Monongahela river side the rivermen fought to have the line as far back as possible—back to the inside curb. The new lines permit enough way for a railroad to build overhead tracks, but this is not wanted by the rivermen. It would be an obstruction to the wharf, they claim.

LAST DAY OF GRACE.

Decoration Day Says "Change Hats," With a Week to Do It.

The first week of June is the time when all men who observe the conventionalities doff their hats of wool and don the hats of straw. Today is the last day of grace. You'll feel out of the game if you appear in your old hat tomorrow, or try to wear it next week.

Campbell has a splendid line of men's straw hats, including the new black-and-white effects, that are the proper caper in New York—and coming this way fast. The best styles at $2, $2.40 and $3, with a paragon of cheapness in a waterproof canvas hat, Porto Rico shape, at 50c.

THE SECRET.

How Doctors Protect Themselves From Contagious Diseases.

Doctors rarely catch contagious diseases. Almost everybody knows this, but few know how they escape. Many believe that the doctor has some charm or antiseptic which protects him. Dr. Hartman lately made the truth of this matter public, that all might realize its benefit. Contagious diseases are conveyed by minute organisms known as disease germs. These germs find their entrance into the system through the mucous membrane. If the mucous membrane is healthy, they cannot get into the system. If the mucous membrane is affected by catarrh the germs find easy access. Catarrhal secretions furnish exactly the material upon which they thrive and multiply. To get rid of the catarrh and thus preserve the mucous membrane healthy, is the only way to be safe from contagious diseases. This explains why it is that some people catch diseases easier than others.

Everyone is exposed just the same. Not every one, however, falls a victim to contagious diseases. A disease germ cannot enter the system through a perfectly healthy mucous membrane. Doctors know this and therefore guard against it. This is all the secret there is about it.

Catarrh of the Stomach Most Common in Summer.

Mr. Virgil Rowelee, Fulton, Oswego county, N. Y., writes:

"I am a well man. I had stomach trouble for three years, tried several doctors and got no help; then tried your Peruna, and now feel like a new man. Would recommend it to everybody with catarrh of the stomach. I have gained forty pounds and can eat most anything. I cannot say too much for your medicine. People tell me I look like a new man. I tell them that I am, and that it is Peruna that did it. I had doctored with five different doctors, but did not get any help, but when I began to take your Peruna it began to help me. I now feel like a well man."—Virgil Rowelee.

Mr. D. B. Van Huffle, Highland Park College, 3600 Third street, Des Moines, Iowa, writes:

"For many months I have been annoyed with stomach troubles. I tried all kinds of medicines but they did not do me much good. I heard so much of Peruna that I finally came to the conclusion to try it. I used one bottle and commenced to feel some better. I used two bottles more of it, and it left me of my stomach trouble. I thank it my duty to recommend Peruna to all who are suffering from stomach troubles, and I am sure they will find Peruna an excellent remedy."—D. B. Van Huffle.

The best cure or preventive known to the medical profession up to date for catarrh in all its conditions is Peruna. During the uncertain weather of spring-time it is an unnecessary hazard for any one to neglect to guard himself from taking disease by taking Peruna. Send for free catarrh book. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

BARBERS MAY GO ON STRIKE

New Scale of Charges Will Be Proposed to the Proprietors of Shops This Month.

INCREASES IN MANY PRICES

Unless Signed by July 1, the Union Wielders of Razors, Scissors and Sponges Will Take a Holiday and the General Public Can Shave Themselves.

Have your razor honed.

The barbers of Pittsburgh may go on strike July 1. If they do not go on strike the prices for nearly everything to be had in a barber shop will be raised. In any case, there's trouble coming. All has been conducted in great secrecy.

Barbers' union No. 20 of this city will meet June 16 to vote finally on the plan of presenting a new scale of prices, to be signed by all the proprietors of union tonsorial parlors. The new scale is certain of approval at the union meeting, it is said, and the proprietors will be notified at once of the action taken. Unless they sign the scale, their union men will quit work on July 1. There are only two non-union barber shops employing white men in the downtown section. There are five other shops where colored barbers work, but colored barbers are not admitted to the barbers' union.

This new scale will be as follows:

All shaving	15 cents
Haircutting	25 cents
Electric massage	25 cents
Plain massage	25 cents
Neck shaving	5 cents
Hot towels	10 cents
Ice towels	10 cents

A commission basis of 50 per cent on all receipts of a chair of over $20 a week.

There still remain a number of places down town where the price of a shave is but 10 cents. The price of hair cutting and massage is almost universally 25 cents. On May 25 the barbers in the suburbs increased the price of hair cutting from 20 to 25 cents. To charge 10 cents for hot towels and ice towels will mean still more trouble for those who hate to turn out late and have been accustomed to save but five cents to pay the price of looking the next morning as if they had spent the night in peaceful sleep.

The union agreement with the employing barbers was signed for the year on March 30. This agreement covers the employment of union men exclusively and the hours of opening and closing, etc. The new demands are additional to those already agreed to.

HE HAS A GOOD THING.

Architect Osterling Gets 5 Per Cent on County Work—Unlimited Contract.

County Controller R. J. Cunningham is investigating a contract made by the county commissioners with Architect F. J. Osterling, who was to receive a commission of 5 per cent for all work done by the county in his line. It was signed in April, 1900, and has no termination clause. It is said Mr. Osterling has collected this commission on the marble floors in the court house and for roofing and rearrangement work in the various offices of the county building. Thousands of dollars were paid on account of the morgue, it is said, which cost $100,000 more than the contract price. The following figures show two bills rendered by Mr. Osterling:

Sept. 17, '01, recorder's office	$39,508 50
Oct. 20, '01, law library	7,000 00
Marble floors (first story corridors)	8,039 00
Commissioners' office	7,350 00
Controller's office	20,893 50
Clerk of courts' office	2,820 00
Tile roofs over corridors	4,871 00
Total	$92,290 00
Commission at 5 per cent, as per contract	$ 4,614 50

The second bill is as follows:

First payment on account of services rendered in the altering and equipping of the prothonotary's office, Allegheny county court house, as per contract	$ 1,500 00

Controller Cunningham does not think the commissioners have a right to make contracts for a longer period than their term of office, and will likely require in the future that contracts of this nature be confined to specific jobs. During the year 1902 the report of Controller Thompson shows that Mr. Osterling received from the county $10,114 50.

CONVENTION ADJOURNS.

Epworth League of Allegheny County District Completes Their Business.

The annual convention of the Epworth League of the Allegheny county district, which opened on Thursday in the Union Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, was brought to a close last night. At the morning meeting a "morning watch," a feature of worship peculiar to the Epworth League, was conducted by the Rev. J. W. Hoffman. Following this the district vice presidents conducted conferences on the department's of work.

In the afternoon after the close of the devotional exercises, which were conducted by the Rev. W. W. Heil, the district junior superintendent had charge of the junior half hour. The Rev. Appelton Bash of Beaver, formerly pastor of the Arch Street Methodist Episcopal church, Allegheny, spoke on the excursion planned to the international Epworth league convention, which will be held in Detroit in July, and Miss Ada Marcutt spoke on "Our Duty to the Temperance Cause."

The convention closed in the evening. The address was made by the Rev. A. B. Riker, president of Mt. Union college. His topic was "The Mission of Culture."

LUMBER PILE UPSET UPON TWO LITTLE BOYS

Willie Arnnie, 7 years old, of No. 87 Mulberry alley, had his leg broken at Penn avenue and Twenty-third street last night, within a few feet of where his 4-year-old brother was killed by a street car about six weeks ago. Joseph Shay, 8 years old, of No. 2229 Spring alley, was also badly bruised. The two boys, with a number of others, were playing on a lumber pile when it upset, pinioning them underneath.

FIRST OF SEVEN SISTERS TO DIE

Top Row—Mrs. George South, Mrs. Thomas Cochran, Mrs. M. M. Hutchinson.
Lower Row—Mrs. Jacob Needy, Mrs. Elmyra Graham Evans, Mrs. Israel Early, Mrs. Joseph Algeo.

Mrs. Elmyra Graham Evans, widow of George W. Evans, 71 years old, died at her residence, No. 2202 East street, Allegheny, yesterday. She was the oldest of seven sisters, and the first to die. Mrs. Evans was born in New Brighton, Pa., and at an early age removed to Mercer county. Fifty-two years ago she removed to Allegheny, and has lived in the same location since that time. She was ill only three days, the cause of her death being heart failure. For nearly half a century she has been a member of the First Presbyterian church, Allegheny. Eight children survive. They are Theodore L. and William B. Evans of Des Moines, Ia.; George W., John G., Frank R., Mrs. Mary E. Langhans, Miss Elmyra and Miss Emma C. Evans, all of Allegheny. Six sisters, Mrs. Jacob Needy and Mrs. D. George South of Allegheny; Mrs. Israel Early of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Joseph Algeo, Mrs. M. M. Hutchinson and Mrs. Thomas Cochran of New Matamoras, O. Eleven grandchildren also survive.

WILLIAM HUNSINGER LATEST RIOT ARREST

County Detective Will Arraign Him Before Witnesses to Find if He Fired the Fatal Shots.

William Hunsicker of Forbes street was arrested yesterday morning by County Detective Robt. G. Robinson and committed to the Allegheny county jail on a charge of riot. He was held without bail.

Hunsicker was at High Bridge, Sunday and it is alleged was one of the men who participated in the assault in which Charles Kelly was killed and William Davis was shot and almost lynched. Detective Robinson will arraign Hunsicker before several witnesses this morning for identification as the man who used the rifle on the negroes.

Information was made against Hunsicker by Detective Robinson before Alderman John Groetzinger. The boy's father followed him to jail and offered to give bail for his release. District Attorney Haymaker refused to allow Hunsicker's release until further examination was made in the case. Hunsicker is the son of the well-known wagon maker.

The arrest of Hunsicker may bring about the release of William Rees, who is also known as "Sailor." Rees admitted being a spectator to the affair when arrested at his home in Mt. Washington, Thursday. He denied that he shot the colored men.

CARD AT THE CARNIVAL

Glass Pavilion Is One of the Chief Attractions on Arsenal Grounds.

One of the interesting exhibitions at the United Labor carnival is that to be seen at the glass pavilion, near the Streets of Cairo, in the Midway. This is an exhibit given by five members of the Window Glass Workers' Association of America. The chief feature is a portable four-pot furnace, in which the glass is melted, and the blowers and gatherers work from these pots. It is the only one of its kind in existence. The glass workers make all kinds of novelties and present them to the visitors. The new furnace, which is operated by oil as a fuel, is a curiosity to the glass workers, and they as well as manufacturers are visiting it in large numbers.

The attendance at the carnival yesterday was somewhat kept back by the threatening weather in the afternoon, but in the evening the crowd was a big one. Marvelous Marsh yesterday afternoon was unable because of illness to make his leap from the structure down which he rides on a bicycle, but he was on hand last night in good shape. The committee of the Building Trades council has made preparations for a record-breaking crowd today.

FOR DEATH OF WIFE.

James Johnston Is Arrested to Await Outcome of Coroner's Inquest.

James Johnston, negro, of No. 5 Arthur street, was arrested yesterday afternoon on a charge of being a suspicious person to await the result of the coroner's inquest in the death of his wife.

The woman died Wednesday. It is alleged from injuries inflicted by her husband in a quarrel on May 25. The couple had some words at Center avenue and Arthur street. Johnston knocked her down and kicked her, it is said. As the woman was in delicate health at the time she did not recover from the injuries. Superintendent McTighe learned of the alleged assault and ordered the arrest of Johnston. Johnston is 40 years old and a laborer.

Three sons of Mark Quinn, Sr., foreman of the Edgar Thomson steel works at Braddock, have met violent deaths within a few years.

Mark Quinn, Jr., 30 years old, was killed Thursday midnight on the Pittsburgh, Virginia & Charleston railroad, at Duquesne. He is survived by his widow and the following brothers and sisters: Mrs. M. J. Beamon, John, Steven and Martin Quinn, all of Duquesne; Mrs. W. J. Dixon of Talbot avenue and James L. Quinn, both of Braddock.

A brother, 20 years old, was killed some years ago in the McKinney stone quarries in North Braddock, and another brother, Michael Quinn, foreman at the Edgar Thomson blast furnaces, was killed by an explosion.

Lockjaw Is Becoming Epidemic in Pittsburgh

Memorial day lockjaw is becoming epidemic in Pittsburgh. Two more cases were reported yesterday. One was Clarence Carmody, 8 years old, son of Michael Carmody, general train dispatcher and assistant superintendent of the Allegheny division of the P. R. R. He received a slight wound in the hand while firing a pistol and yesterday symptoms of lockjaw developed. He is at his father's home, No. 246 Forty-fourth street. Robert Rafferty, 7 years old, is the other victim. He lives at No. 2024 Penn avenue. A pistol he was firing on Memorial day exploded in his hand and the wad of the cartridge lodged in the hand. He was not ill until Wednesday, but the disease has made rapid progress and his condition last night was very critical.

Morris Dalleo, 14 years old, of No. 3481 Grant boulevard, died yesterday at St. Francis hospital of lockjaw. On Decoration day he shot himself in the hand while playing with a pistol.

COAL OPERATORS DELAY SETTLEMENT OF DISPUTE

They Insist That Miners on Conciliation Board Must Be Elected.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., June 5.—Although there has been a hope that the coal operators on the board of conciliation would change their attitude and agree to meet District Presidents Nicholls, Fahey and Dettrey without making the mine workers choose them at a convention, it is apparent they will not agree to recognize the district presidents until they have been elected by the mine workers of each district.

Even the statement of Judge Gray, calling particular attention to the fact that the commission did not specify that three should be elected, but said "appointed," does not alter their determination. They say they wish to be certain that the three elected are the choice of a majority of the mine workers.

Today the operators would make no further statement than that there was nothing for them to do, but await the action of the mine workers' convention on June 15. In the meantime, while the mine workers are preparing for this, there are growing grievances. The most important of these is the complaint that some companies are reducing the price of yardage.

Exchanged Shots With a Robber.

An attempt was made to enter the apartments of W. F. Braun, the dancing master, in Braun's auditorium, South Highland avenue, early yesterday morning. Mr. Braun was aroused, secured a revolver and fired two shots through a door at the man. The robber ran down the stairs and turned and fired a bullet that narrowly missed Mr. Braun, the dancing master and a guest, Prof. Martin Duffy of Detroit, chased the intruder, but he escaped.

Smiled on the Gallows.

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., June 5.—(Special.)—Wilford Davis, who murdered Chief of Police Page Marstiller at Elkins, April 21, 1902, was executed tonight at the penitentiary at Moundsville, in the presence of 62 persons. Davis was perfectly cool, professed repentance and smiled on the scaffold. He ate a hearty supper before going to the gallows.

MOORE SAYS THE MAYOR WILL STAND BY HIS SIDE

Director of Public Safety Asserts He Refused to Sell Graft Privileges.

Director Harry Moore declared yesterday that he proposed to stop the granting of all graft privileges in his department if it would cost him his job.

"Many people who were with us in the last campaign wanted graft privileges, but I would not stand for anything like that. This, of course, do not make them feel kindly toward me and started the unfounded reports that I would be asked to resign.

"The mayor is heartily in sympathy with me, and is just as determined as I am to stop graft in all its forms. There will be no grafting as long as I am director of the department of public safety. I will give up my job first."

THE HAMILTON AVENUE EXTENSION WAS VIEWED

The route of the proposed relocation of Hamilton avenue, from Fifth avenue extension to Penn avenue, East End, was inspected yesterday afternoon by Director E. M. Bigelow of the public works department, the sub-committee of the councils and a corps of engineers. Besides the members of the East End board of trade and other business men of the East End the party proposed to have Hamilton avenue opened through to Penn avenue and so divert the traffic to and from the Homewood section of the Twenty-ninth ward from Frankstown avenue. This afternoon at 2 o'clock the full committee will meet to receive the report of the engineers. The ordinance will be introduced in common council Monday night with an affirmative recommendation.

THE BALANCE OF HEALTH

Is often very much against the wife. Her strength is undermined, she loses flesh and her energy and courage slowly leak away from her. Gradually the comradeship of husband and wife is broken up. At first he takes his solitary pleasures reluctantly, but later he hardly seems to remember the old days over which his wife in her weakness mourns daily.

Women who find their health failing, and womanly ailments fastening on them, should promptly begin the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It corrects irregularity, dries the drains which weaken women, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness. It makes weak women strong, sick women well. Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence held as strictly private and sacredly confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"I had been a great sufferer from female weakness for about two years," writes Mrs. Emma Richardson, of Goss, Wayne Co., Ky. "Could not do my work half of the time. I took four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and felt as well as I ever did. I have also used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery for ulceration of the throat with good results and half of one bottle cured my throat when I could scarcely swallow."

COLORADO

Go there for your Summer Trip.

One of our crack trains runs between Chicago and Kansas City.

Colorado has been written about, painted, described in scores of volumes, visited by tens of thousands—and has never disappointed a visitor.

There is no need to dwell here upon Colorado's charms, but before selecting the place for your summer vacation you ought to send for a copy of our "Handbook of Colorado."

This handy little book does not attempt a description of the wonderful scenery nor climate, but it does give definite information in regard to the resorts, hotels, boarding houses and ranches in Colorado.

It tells where they are located, how they are reached, what the principal attractions are, the cost of board by the week and the month, the names and addresses of the proprietors. At many of them capital fare and excellent quarters can be secured at from $8 to $10 per week and upward.

People of moderate means can well afford to spend the summer in Colorado, as the Burlington Route will sell tickets throughout the season at about half the regular rates—on certain days even less than half. Delightful side-trips can be made from Colorado to the Black Hills and to Yellowstone Park at little cost.

It is worth your while to cut out the coupon below and send it to Mr. Thomas.

MISS BIGGAR SUED BY MRS. HENDRICK

Doctor's Wife Asks $100,000 for the Alienation of Her Husband's Affections.

PROCESS SERVERS FOILED

Unable to Find Either Actress or Her Friend—Judge Dickey Issues Order of Arrest, Fearing That the Elusive Physician May Leave the State.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, June 5.

Agnes Mary Hendrick has sued for a part of the fortune of Laura Biggar for alienating the affections of her husband, Charles C. Hendrick, physician, baseball player, sportsman and the present alleged husband of Miss Biggar. Papers were filed this morning in the supreme court of Brooklyn in which Mrs. Hendrick sues for $100,000. She also asks for a limited divorce.

Dr. Hendrick figured very prominently in the famous Biggar-Bennett case in which the actress with Hendrick and Henry Stanton were up for conspiracy in trying to seize the estate of Henry M. Bennett of Pittsburgh. Miss Biggar was acquitted.

In her complaint against Miss Biggar Mrs. Hendrick makes no charges on which to seek an absolute divorce and the reason she has asked merely for a separation is said to be that Miss Biggar and Dr. Hendrick may not be able to marry if they should wish to do so.

Miss Biggar a short time ago settled her claim against the Bennett estate for a large sum. She occupied her home at No. 119 East Eighty-third street for a short time after this settlement, but since the papers in the action against her were prepared it is said that it has been impossible to obtain service of them upon her.

In connection with Mrs. Hendrick's action against her husband, Judge Dickey in the supreme court in Brooklyn has issued an order of arrest, it being alleged that the doctor is likely to leave the state, but as yet Dr. Hendrick has not been found by the process servers.

Mrs. Hendrick is living with her mother at No. 109 President street, Brooklyn. She asserts that she has for the last year failed to receive support for herself and her three children from her husband and blames Miss Biggar for alienating his affections. House, Grossman & Vorhaus are Mrs. Hendrick's attorneys.

Detectives have been searching for Miss Biggar for some time. She has not been in New York for days, and it is said she was last seen with Dr. Hendrick in Hoboken. P. J. McNulty, who is here tonight at the Navarre, did not care to discuss the case. C. P. GRENEKER.

POLE KILLED BY ROBBER AT PANHANDLE CROSSING

Pietre Nych Died of Fractured Skull After Police Had Refused to Believe Him.

A blow on the head dealt by one of two highwaymen caused the death of Pietre Nych, a Pole. He died at the Homeopathic hospital late Thursday night, supposedly of consumption. A post-mortem examination yesterday disclosed the fact that his skull had been fractured and the story of his being assaulted and robbed on Saturday night, which had until then been disbelieved, is now given credit. The police are now searching for his assailant.

The assault occurred at the Second avenue crossing of the Panhandle tracks. Two men approached him there and demanded that he turn over his money to them. He refused, whereupon they knocked him down and robbed him of $50.

It is said that Nych was unconscious for an hour, but he remained undiscovered. When he became conscious he arose and boarded a Second avenue car and made the complete circuit. The conductor put him off at Grant street and then he went to the Baltimore & Ohio station. He became unconscious there and was taken to the Central police station. Later he was sent to the hospital. Thursday morning his condition seemed so much improved that he was discharged. He wandered aimlessly about the streets and was again picked up by the police and returned to the hospital, where he died. The post-mortem examination led to an investigation by Deputy Coroner Louis Huckel. He found a street car conductor who says he saw Nych being assaulted.

ARRESTS ARE PROMISED FOR SILK ROBBERIES

GREENSBURG, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—Arrests for the silk robberies that have been going on for three months in Westmoreland, Fayette and Somerset counties are expected to be made tomorrow. Detectives G. B. Perkins, Frank Joy, Archie Miller and John Cherry, all of Pittsburgh, arrived in Greensburg this morning. Joy and Miller returned from a tour of the coke regions. It is claimed that two of the culprits have been discovered, and it is hinted that the arrests will create a sensation. It is estimated that $5,000 worth of silks have been stolen in the three counties and shipped to the west.

Ohio Preacher Arrested.

WARREN, O., June 5.—(Special.)—Deputy United States Marshal F. M. Fanning of Cleveland, today arrested the Rev. J. W. Miller of the German Lutheran church at Apple Creek, Wayne county, O., at New Middleton and brought him here for a hearing before United States Commissioner R. L. Gilmore. RIVER LEVEES NOW BREAKING Vast Territory of Farming Lands Being Inundated by the Mississippi.

THE LOSS WILL BE ENORMOUS

Will Extend Into the Millions of Dollars in One District Alone—Rivers Rapidly Falling in the North Topeka District. List of Dead Growing.

[By Associated Press to The Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, June 5.—The crest of the flood in the Mississippi will reach here Sunday, and although there has been ample time to prepare for it, many expect a heavy property loss will result. The stage is now 35 feet, with the river rising steadily.

Three levees north of this city have broken and nearly 200 families had to escape in skiffs.

LOUISIANA, MO., June 5.—The Sny levee broke just below this city today, and as a result the Mississippi is now falling here at the rate of six inches an hour. The Sny is the most important levee on the north end of the river and is 70 miles long. It encloses a fertile farming section of about 100,000 acres, and several towns of a population of about 10,000. When the break was discovered a rush was made to repair it, but the waters soon got beyond control. This district has not been flooded since 1858, and the damage will run into the millions.

KANSAS CITY, MO., June 5.—The waters have so far receded that about one-fourth of the inundated area can now be occupied. The list of known dead here and at Topeka has increased to 78. The river is falling an inch an hour. A temporary bridge is being constructed across the Kansas river to carry the city aqueduct, and pure water is hoped for within three days.

PEACE MAY RESULT.

New York Building Trades Employers Suggest Method of Arbitration.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—Unprecedented in the annals of labor is the arbitration proposition submitted today by the Building Trades Employers association to all the unions in the building trades.

The plan provides for a general board and a joint court of appeals, the latter consisting of four members, two from the employers and two from the employes. Every question arising shall be submitted to this court, the labor representatives of which are to be members of unions having no direct interest in the point at issue, while the employers shall be selected from trades not involved in the dispute to be arbitrated. C. P. GRENEKER.

Teachers' Salaries Increased.

JOHNSTOWN, PA., June 5.—(Special.)—The Johnstown school controllers tonight increased the salaries of 72 teachers in the grades $5 per month. In the high school the same general increase is awarded. Prof. Long was re-elected principal, and J. E. Smedley, vice principal of the high school. A total of 152 teachers and four substitutes were elected tonight.

Defied Police All Night.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., June 5.—(Special.)—Charles Card of Congo, W. Va., who fled from that state, it is alleged, after stabbing Lee Kidd, six months ago, returned last night and raised a disturbance with his family, who lately moved to Chester. He defied the police all night, but surrendered this morning.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 5.

The committee of the local press club has completed arrangements for the convention of the International League of Press clubs. The big banquet will be held at the Marlborough house. The affair will be attended by about 400 delegates and their wives, besides it is anticipated that President Roosevelt, governors of states as well as the mayors of many large cities will be present.

The following program for the entertainment of the delegates has been announced. On Monday, June 23, the delegates as they arrive will be greeted at the Press club headquarters at the Hotel Rudolf. They will be registered, given badges and other necessary credentials. On Tuesday morning the delegates will be driven over the city and in the afternoon the league will hold its first session. This will be in the Marine hall of the Steel pier. Mayor Stoy will extend the delegates a welcome to the shore, tendering them the freedom of the city. In the evening the delegates will be tendered a reception and dance in the Steel pier.

On Wednesday in the morning the second business session of the league will be held and in the afternoon the delegates will take in the boardwalk amusements, all of which will be thrown open to the newspaper men during their stay. At 4 o'clock the delegates will be taken to the outer end of Young's pier to witness the hauling in of the nets. The banquet at the Marlborough house will be held in the evening.

On Thursday the final business meeting will be held. At noon all of the delegates will go in bathing and that night there will be a night in Bohemia, under the auspices of the Pen and Pencil club of Philadelphia. Friday, the visitors will be given a trolley ride to Longport and in the afternoon yachting and other diversions will be in order. The Atlantic City Yacht club has placed at the disposal of the newspaper men their club house, their launches, yachts and other paraphernalia.

Something New and Very Funny—"Buster Brown," in The Sunday Gazette.

Free Medical Advice to Women.

Every sick and ailing woman,
Every young girl who suffers monthly,
Every woman who is approaching maternity,
Every woman who feels that life is a burden,
Every woman who has tried all other means to regain health without success,
Every woman who is going through that critical time—the change of life—is invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., in regard to her trouble, and the most expert advice telling exactly how to obtain a CURE will be sent absolutely free of cost.

The one thing that qualifies a person to give advice on any subject is experience—experience creates knowledge.

No other person has so wide an experience with female ills nor such a record of success as Mrs. Pinkham has had.

Over a hundred thousand cases come before her each year. Some personally, others by mail. And this has been going on for twenty years, day after day, and day after day.

Twenty years of constant success—think of the knowledge thus gained! Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman with such an experience, especially when it is free.

Mrs. Hayes, of Boston, wrote to Mrs. Pinkham when she was in great trouble. Her letter shows the result. There are actually thousands of such letters in Mrs. Pinkham's possession.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been under doctors' treatment for female troubles for some time, but without any relief. They now tell me I have a fibroid tumor. I cannot sit down without great pain, and the soreness extends up my spine. I have bearing down pains both back and front. My abdomen is swollen. I cannot wear my clothes with any comfort. Womb is dreadfully swollen, and I have had flowing spells for three years. My appetite is not good. I cannot walk or be on my feet for any length of time.

"The symptoms of Fibroid Tumor, given in your little book, accurately describe my case, so I write to you for advice."—MRS. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St. (Boston), Roxbury, Mass.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I wrote to you describing my symptoms, and asked your advice. You replied, and I followed all your directions carefully for several months, and to-day I am a well woman.

"The use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, together with your advice, carefully followed, entirely expelled the tumor, and strengthened the whole system. I can walk miles now.

"Your Vegetable Compound is worth five dollars a drop. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors, or any female trouble, to write you for advice, and give it a faithful trial."—MRS. E. F. HAYES, 252 Dudley St. (Boston), Roxbury, Mass.

Mrs. Hayes will gladly answer any and all letters that may be addressed to her asking about her illness, and how Mrs. Pinkham helped her.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness.
Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Indiana Firm Expected to Build Westmoreland County Court House.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

GREENSBURG, PA., June 5.—The board of county commissioners did not meet today to award the contract for the erection and completion of the new courthouse as expected, but it is unofficially given out that Caldwell & Drake of Columbus, Ind., who submitted the lowest bid will be chosen.

Controller John H. Brown expressed himself as being in favor of Caldwell & Drake. The act of assembly of 1895 gives him the power to withhold payment for all work done on contracts unless awarded to the lowest reputable bidder. He says he will exercise the power vested in him by the act, and will honor no warrants drawn for the construction of the new temple of justice unless the lowest bidders are given the contract.

Caldwell & Drake were awarded the contract at the second letting last August, but the judges of the common pleas court refused to approve their choice. If Caldwell & Drake are awarded the contract it will be an advance of practically $200,000 over the contract that was entered into last August.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ROCHESTER, PA., June 5.—The annual meeting at the Passavant Memorial home for the care of epileptics was held today. A special program of exercises was rendered. Music was furnished by Miss Carter of the Carter conservatory of music, Pittsburgh, assisted by Mr. Russell. Two hundred persons were present.

A special train brought Pittsburgh people to Rochester. An interesting feature of the day to the directors of the home was the taking of a large offering for the proposed new building. A big sum was realized. Considerable money was received through the sale of refreshments and the handiwork of the patients. The exercises were held in a large tent on the lawn.

The annual report of the institution, read by the Rev. M. W. Kohler, rector of the home, showed the institution to be in good financial shape. Dr. H. W. DEAFNESS CURED

Louisville Man Originates a Simple Little Device that Instantly Restores the Hearing—Fits Perfectly, Comfortably, and Does Not Show.

190-PAGE BOOK FREE TELLS ALL ABOUT IT

Since the discovery of a Louisville man it is no longer necessary for any deaf person to carry a trumpet, a tube, or any such old-fashioned device, for it is now possible for any one to hear perfectly by a simple invention that fits in the ear and cannot be detected. The honor belongs to Mr. George H. Wilson, of Louisville, who was himself deaf, and now hears as well as any one. He calls it Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drum, built on the strictest scientific principles, containing no metal of any kind, and is entirely new in every respect. It is so small that no one can see it, but, nevertheless, it collects all sound waves and diverts them against the drum head, causing you to hear perfectly. It will do this even when the natural ear drums are partially or entirely destroyed, perforated, scarred, relaxed, or thickened. It fits any ear from childhood to old age, and, aside from the fact that it does not show, it never causes the least irritation, and can be used with comfort day or night.

It will cure deafness in any person no matter how acquired, whether from catarrh, scarlet fever, typhoid or brain fever, measles, whooping cough, gathering in the ear, shocks from artillery, or through accidents. It not only cures but stays the progress of deafness and all roaring and buzzing noises. It does this in a simple, sure, and scientific way. The effect is immediate.

Let every person who needs this at once send to the company for its 190-page book, which you can have free. It describes and illustrates Wilson's Common Sense Ear Drums and contains many bonafide letters from numerous users in the United States, Canada, Mexico, England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, Australia, New Zealand, Tasmania, India. These letters are from people in every station in life—clergymen, physicians, lawyers, merchants, society ladies, etc.—and tell the truth about the benefits to be derived from the use of this wonderful little device; you will find among them the names of people in your own town or state, and you are at liberty to write to any of them you wish and secure their opinion as to the merits of the only scientific ear drums for restoring the hearing to its normal condition.

Write today and it will not be long before you are again hearing. Address for the free book and convincing evidence, Wilson Ear Drum Co., 977 Todd building, Louisville, Ky., U. S. A.

Our clothing buyer has just consummated several important deals

As a result of these transactions, over $175,000 worth of clothing changed ownership—was transferred from the manufacturers' tailor shops to our clothing floor. But it won't remain there long, once the men of Pittsburgh get wind of the way we've marked the goods. The men know the high standard set and maintained by this clothing store—they know that every statement we make in the paper is backed up by the goods on our counters. Hence, when we announce this purchase of $175,000 worth of clothing on an average 35% saving basis, there's bound to be a quick and ready response. But it's not the big saving so much as the high character of the goods that we wish to emphasize. Hardly necessary to do that either. A mere statement of the fact that this clothing comes from the stocks of

will be sufficient guarantee that it is most meritorious, the reputation enjoyed by the above named firms being unimpeachable. The leading retailers from New York to San Francisco handle their goods—the best dressers everywhere wear them. How were we able to make these purchases so much underprice? It came about this way: Having made a satisfying profit on the entire season's business, the makers considered it a wise move to dispose of the goods still on hand at a sacrifice. Commencing today we will distribute this clothing to our patrons as follows:

8.00 for choice from all the $12, $12.50, $13.50 and $14 suits

Among the materials this offer gives you choice from are fancy homespun mixtures, blue serges, new effects in unfinished worsted cheviots, plaids, herringbone and fancy cassimeres, black and blue rough and smooth cheviots, black thibets, clays and fancy weave worsteds. The coats are cut in the latest single and double-breasted styles, form fitting with broad shoulders, or with full box back—the trousers spring hipped with the wide legs, or in the closer fitting styles demanded by more conservative dressers. The materials were thoroughly sponged and shrunk before the cutters' shears cut them—the linings are the most dependable. A splendid line of two-piece outing suits is also included at this price.

Choice from all the $18, $19, $20, $22 suits for 14.00

This high-class clothing is on a par with the custom made, having hand shaped fronts, stiffened with best hair cloth interlining, hand worked button holes, etc.—the collars fit snug to the neck and come forward nicely into the lapels, which lie close to the chest—the good tailor work inside collars and lapels is done by hand, which insures its holding its shape as long as the clothing lasts and always fitting as well as the first day it's put on. The materials include fancy imported English cheviots, bannockburns, fancy imported worsteds, West of England blue serges, black pool cloths, black thibets, unfinished worsteds, imported cassimeres, etc. Extra fine outing suits, in all-wool crashes, homespuns, Scotch tweeds, etc., also included.

What man hasn't room in his wardrobe for another pair of dressy trousers? What man isn't interested in the saving of a dollar bill? That's why these 4,500 pairs men's $3.50 trousers won't last long at 2.48. Cheviots, cassimeres and worsteds are the materials. A perfect fit guaranteed in every instance.

LEAGUE GAMES TODAY.

Boston at Exposition Park.
New York at Chicago.
Philadelphia at Cincinnati.
Brooklyn at St. Louis.

The champion Pirates continued their remarkable work yesterday when they administered another shutout to Buckenberger's Boston team, the score being 9 to 0. This is the fourth shutout in succession, the New York team having been blanked twice, and it creates a new National league record, that of four shutouts on four succeeding days.

The pitchers in yesterday's contest were Doheny for the Pirates and Pittinger for Boston, and the game started out as though it were going to be a contest between twirlers, but that notion did not last long, as Clarke's crew began to find the Boston man's curves in the second inning, but that time until the finish of the contest the Boston man was given the worst pounding he has received in years.

The champions kept piling up runs one at a time until the ninth inning was reached, then, having piled up a total of four tallies, the interest of the spectators centered on another chance for the champions' record, and they plugged good and hard for the accomplishment of the feat. There were times, however, when it looked like a forlorn hope, but good pitching by Doheny, backed up by splendid fielding, brought about the desired object.

The support accorded Pittinger by the Boston team was very poor, indeed, the infielders being the offenders, and at times the ball was thrown about in a most amateurish manner. This was true of the eighth inning, when the locals piled up five of their nine runs. In this inning three errors were made, and they were largely responsible for three of the five runs. Early in the game the visitors were forced to make a change in reason of an injury to Abbattechio, their regular second baseman, who was forced to retire. Bonner taking his place. This necessitated bringing Dexter in from middle field to second base, and Stanley, the sub player, went to middle field.

The Pirates, on the other hand, furnished Doheny with splendid support, the errors charged against Fitchey being on hard chances, while as usual Wagner's misplay was on the easiest kind of a grounder, but these errors availed nothing for the visitors. It was at the bat where the locals made their wonderful execution. Manager Fred Clarke, as was becoming, led his players with the bat, and out of five times up he made five hits—three singles, a two-bagger and a three-bagger. Beaumont was a good second, having four hits out of five times, two singles, a double and a home run. The home run hit was an exact duplicate of the one made off Mc-Ginnity in the last New York game, being a drive to the deepest part of middle field. The crowd fully appreciated the fine work of the champions, and when the last Boston batsman had been retired the cheers of the 2,040 spectators were both loud and long.

The Pirates started their run getting in the second inning, when Bransfield led off with a two-bagger to center, took third on Leach's sacrifice and scored on Ritchey's single to left. In the third, Beaumont doubled to left and scored on Clarke's slashing two-bagger to right, Beaumont's homer in the fifth inning was the Pirates' third run. In the sixth Wagner doubled to left and scored on wild throws by Dexter and Moran.

The eighth inning proved a merry-go-round for the champions. Leach opened up with a single to left, Ritchey was out at bat, but Pittinger's attempt to head him off resulted in a wild throw, Tommy scoring and Ritchey reaching third. Phelps and Doheny were outs, but Beaumont went out on an infield tap, on which Ritchey scored. Clarke's three-bagger to right scored Beaumont, and Capt. Fred tallied on Sebring's single. Wild throws by Bonner and Moran gave Sebring on third, and he got home with the fifth run on Wagner's single to middle. Bransfield ended the inning by fouling out to Greuninger. The score:

NOTES OF THE GAME.

In the sixth inning Ritchey sent out into right field and scattered in Stanley's pop fly, which looked good for a base hit, in the case of eating up base hits with the Pirates' second baseman sure enough.

There will be another battle between pitchers today, when Phillippe and Willis try for the honors. The big Boston pitcher has been doing great work and Manager Buckenberger looks for him to break the Pirates' winning streak.

Fred Tenney gave a fine exhibition of first base play yesterday and some of his stops and pickups bordered on the sensational. He saved Bonner a wild throw in the third inning by digging the ball out of the ground, and his one-hand catch of Greuninger's seemingly wild throw in the eighth inning was another fine bit of work which the spectators fully appreciated.

One occupant of the grandstand took it upon himself to become the Pirates' official coach yesterday, and his rallying cries could be heard all over the grounds. The fellow had the baseball fever down pat, and he shot it out in rapid succession. Eddie Doheny was his special mark, and the way he coached the Pirate pitcher caused the regular coachers to cast jealous eyes toward the stand.

Weaver, the tall ex-Cardinal, was out in a Pirate uniform yesterday and indulged in the preliminary practice with the team. The tall fellow clouted the ball to the fences in such a manner as to draw forth applause from the carry spectators. Weaver says he is glad to become a Pirate and will do his best to make Patsy Donovan regret having allowed him to go.

Four shutouts on succeeding days is the new National league record established by the Pirates, and it is a record the players have every reason to be proud of. The last time the team was scored against was in the second inning of Monday's game with New York, and the champions' record therefore is 28 innings without a run being scored against them. The record is one that is likely to stand for many years.

Claude Ritchey was caught taking a little off at first base in the second inning, and Pittinger threw to Flanigan, caught Claude by 15 ft. The Pirates' second baseman looked as clean as he walked in, and his fellow-players gave him the laugh when he reached the bench. It is not often that Ritchey forgets himself, and the spectators were quite willing to forgive his little break.

Jimmy Sebring was on the business end of a very pretty double play in the seventh inning. Cooley was on first by reason of a single, and Greuninger was at bat, when the tip was sent out for the hit and run. On the first pitch Cooley started for second and Greuninger whaled away at the ball. The effort was a line fly to right which Sebring gathered in neatly, then shot the ball true and straight into Bransfield's hands, and Cooley was doubled up flat.

Ed A. Hotel, financial secretary of local union No. 100 of the Painters, Decorators and Paperhangers' Association of America, telephoned this office last night and said there was more talk of his organization establishing a boycott against the Pirates. He claims that Fred Clarke and his crew have been working for four days at the whitewashing business without first having procured a union card. Mr. Hetsel's little joke will be appreciated by the Pirate crew, but not by Boston.

HARVARD CRICKET PLAYERS.

Pittsburgh Boys Made Fine Showing on the Teams.

CAMBRIDGE, MASS., June 5.—(Special.)—The Harvard University Cricket association closed its season today. Most of the 17 members of this year's team had very bad averages. William Nicholson Taylor of Pittsburgh, 1904, finished best with an average of 18.5. Frank Carroll Taylor of Pittsburgh, a freshman in the academic course, won the Francis Fisher ball with the excellent bowling average of 5.5. J. Q. Tingley, 1905, who had an average of 3.83, was declared ineligible for the ball on account of his not playing in nine games. The prospects for next year's team are exceedingly bright, as 11 of this year's team, including both the Taylors, will return to college.

The Field club will cross bats with the Westinghouse team today on the Brushton grounds. Game starts at 2:30. As most of the Electric team are regular playing members of the Field club cricket eleven "ground circuits" are liable to occur.

TODAY'S FIELD MEET.

All Schools Except Shadyside Will Take Part.

With the exception of Shadyside academy all the best secondary schools of Western Pennsylvania will be represented in the championship field and track meet at Schenley park this afternoon. Kiskiminetas Springs school, with her star performers, Pittsburgh High school, Allegheny Preparatory school and the Washington and Jefferson academy will be contestants. W. and J. academy, the winner of last Tuesday's meet at Washington, will have her best men up.

This meet promises to eclipse that of last year, which was considered about the best of its kind that ever took place in this section. There will be many contestants and the entry list is large. Kiski has entered 72, which is the largest of the lot. Secretary Bigelow of the Allegheny preparatory school, who has the affair in charge, is most enthusiastic over the meet. The games will begin promptly at 10 o'clock and Thomas Laidley will referee. Laidly was referee of the meet last year.

Today's County League Game.

A full schedule is announced by the County league for today. Now for a warm time. The following games are scheduled: The Heights A. C. will journey to McKees Rocks; Sullivans of Braddock will try to down Moore's Dutch of Verona at Oakmont; Wolfs will play Duquesne at Carrick and St. Casimer will try to break their streak of hard luck by taking a game from the Fisher A. C., on the latter's grounds.

THE HARLEM HANDICAP.

Bad Condition of Track Makes McChesney a Doubtful Starter.

CHICAGO, June 5.—The $10,000 Harlem National handicap will be run tomorrow at Harlem over a slow and heavy track. Out of more than 100 nominations for the event, an even 20 are carded to start. In the list of candidates are four American derby candidates and some of the best handicap horses racing in the west. McChesney, the favorite in the winter books, is a doubtful starter owing to the bad condition of the track. S. C. Hildreth, who is training the Hig horse, said: "I think that it does not look as though McChesney would have a chance in the race even if he should start, as the horse is not a mudder.

"With the prospects of a bad track, Flying Torpedo has been cut from 10 to 1 to 5 to 2, and he may go to the post favorite. In the over-night betting Pavonius, Gregor K., Linguist, Falcurra, Lady Amsterdam, Sloan Young and Hargis were played heavily.

The American derby colts entered to start are Linguist, Gregor K., Dendin and Airlight. The most popular of these among bettors is Gregor K., on account of the decided beating he gave Lucien Appleby yesterday in a mile handicap at Hawthorne.

NEWS OF THE HOME AND THE SOCIETY WORLD

SOCIETY — WOMEN'S CLUBS

MRS. OLIVER D. THOMPSON and Miss Bessie Anthony left Pittsburgh last evening for Princeton, N. J., where today they will attend the Yale-Princeton baseball game. Miss Anthony has almost completely recovered from a sprained ankle which has kept her confined during her visit to Mrs. Thompson at the Allegheny Country club. A number of small and informal entertainments were given in her honor while here, though others were given up because of the accident which she met with soon after arriving in the city. Mrs. Thompson and Miss Anthony will spend only the day in Princeton and then Mrs. Thompson will return to Pittsburgh, while Miss Anthony will go to her home in Philadelphia.

A feature of the game today in Princeton is of special interest to the Pittsburgh friends of Donald Thompson, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver D. Thompson, who today will be given one of the most cherished athletic honors, the permission to wear the "N" for Yale during his lifetime. It is an honor which is only conferred after reaching a certain standard in the field of athletics. There is no medal or emblem given with this honor, which is merely the permission to wear the letter "N" upon the hat or coat or stamped on the college paper and stationery, and bears no relation whatever to the wearing of the college pin which any student may wear. This permission will be conferred on the Pitts burgh student, who is a senior at Yale, today in Princeton.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will go on to New Haven for the commencement exercises at Yale on June 20.

Dinner and Rehearsal.

The members of the Baggaley-Irwin bridal party and a few others were entertained last evening at a dinner given at the Union club by Mr. Irwin's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. William Harrison Smith of Marchand street. Covers were laid for 24, the dinner being served at 6 o'clock in the blue room of the club, which was gracefully decorated with white roses and delicate foliage. The dinner was followed by the wedding rehearsal in the Shadyside Presbyterian church. In addition to Miss Baggaley and Mr. Irwin the party included Miss Julia McBride, the honor maid; Miss Elsie Mitchell of Bethlehem and Miss Annabel Baggaley, a younger sister of the bride-elect, as bridesmaids; Walter Wayne Irwin, who will be his brother's best man; Preston Schoyer, Thomas B. Hartley, Robert Pitcairn, Jr., Gross McConnell and Robert Baggaley of Pittsburgh, Albert B. Bissel of Philadelphia and Eben J. Watson of New York, the ushers.

Cumming—Finn.

An informal church wedding of Thursday morning was the marriage of Miss Lillian M. Cumming, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Cumming of Parkview avenue, Allegheny, and Mr. S. Finn of Homestead, which took place in St. Peter's Roman Catholic church, Sherman avenue and Ohio street, Allegheny. The pastor, the Rev. John Gallagher, officiated, the ceremony taking place at 10 o'clock, in the presence of the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends. Miss Katherine B. Exler was the bride's only attendant. After a reception and breakfast, the young couple left for an eastern trip. They will be at home after July 1, in Thirteenth street, Homestead.

Two Weddings in Carnegie.

Invitations have been issued for two weddings in Carnegie next week. The wedding of Miss Anna Elizabeth Jordan and Marion Love Handley of Avalon will be solemnized Tuesday evening, June 16, at 8 o'clock, at the bride's home in Washington avenue.

The other wedding will be that of Miss Eva St. Clair Morgan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Morgan, and John Hague Mulvey, on Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church of Carnegie. After the ceremony a reception will be held at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Mulvey will take a wedding trip.

Biddle—Emery.

Miss May Biddle and John Emery, both of New Castle, were married at 7 o'clock Thursday evening by the Rev. Horace M. Conoway, pastor of the First Methodist church of that city. Miss Bessie Harris of Johnstown played the wedding march and the bride was given away by her mother. Miss Nell Biddle was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Laura Smith of Allegheny, Miss Mabel Mallett of Sharon, Miss Mary Rankin of Akron and Miss Edith Jordan and Miss Maud McFarland of this city. The best man was A. P. Gillespie of Pittsburgh. After an eastern honeymoon Mr. and Mrs. Emery will reside in New Castle.

Miss Webster's Engagement.

Miss Elizabeth Webster of Walnut street, East End, will give a luncheon this afternoon to a few intimate friends at which she will announce her engagement to Mr. Chamberlain of New York. Miss Webster has been well known in musical circles for the last few years since she came to Pittsburgh to be associated with her brother, Beveridge Webster, in the Pittsburgh Conservatory of Music. She is one of the most brilliant pianists in this city and is a thorough musician and member of the Tuesday Musical club.

Ernest Gamble in Berlin.

Ernest Gamble, the Pittsburgh basso, is now in Berlin. Mr. Gamble has had a very busy season and his tour this year embraced a much larger section of country than is customary for him. He sang in almost every large city between New York and San Francisco from October to the latter part of May. He has arranged to spend the summer visiting Germany, Scotland and London. He will give a continuous series of song recitals next year, assisted by a violinist and pianist.

Notes of Society.

Robert S. Davis of Atlantic avenue, East End, is spending a month at points in Virginia and North Carolina. Mr. Davis' daughter, Miss Mary Hartley Davis, recently returned from Cambridge Springs.

Miss Edna Forbes of Swissvale will give a box party to see "Rob Roy" at Duquesne Garden this evening for her visitors, the Misses Chester of New York. The play will be followed by supper at the Hotel Schenley.

Mrs. T. Chalmers Clarkson and her daughter, Miss Clarkson, of Oak Lawn, South Negley and Center avenues, East End, leave this evening to spend the summer at Port Hope, Ontario. Instead of taking a cottage as heretofore they will remain at "Hillcrest," the summer home of Mrs. Frank N. Schwartz, another daughter of Mrs. Clarkson.

THE regular June meeting of the Pittsburgh chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution was held yesterday morning in the Twentieth Century club house. Several interesting reports were presented. The chapter has been considering for some time a trip to Fort Necessity. Mrs. Robert Reineman, Mrs. Edwin F. Earl and Mrs. Thomas Clifton Jenkins form a committee of arrangements for the proposed visit. Mrs. John Harper, who represented the Colonial Dames, made two reports, one which included a plan for a two days' trip to the mountains in Fayette county, and the other showing how the journey may be made in one day. In connection with the report, Mrs. William H. Ballard read a letter written by her father, Col. Thomas F. Roberts, descriptive of his trip to the site of Fort Necessity and Braddock's grave. A number of the members present have at various times visited these places of historic interest, which will be presented. The chapter agreed that owing to the long journey and ride from Uniontown to defer the trip for the present. A committee from the chapter may make the visit later in the summer.

The committee appointed to award the prizes offered to the junior and senior classes of the Sewickley High school consists of Miss Lucy F. Bittinger, Miss Mary O'Hara Darlington, Miss Alberta Rice, Mrs. Henry D. Lindsay and Mrs. Joseph Otten. The prizes offered to the Coraopolis High school will not be awarded until autumn, the principal having asked that the pupils be given the summer months to prepare for the competition.

Miss Mary Darlington showed some interesting copies of the plans of Fort Pitt and Fort Duquesne belonging to the English government, which were procured by Col. William M. Darlington in 1882.

The secretary's report gave the present membership of the chapter as 432. Mrs. Edwin F. Earl, the corresponding secretary, who is at present also acting as recording secretary, was instructed to send a letter congratulating Miss Guffey, the secretary, upon her convalescence from her recent illness. Resolutions of sympathy will be sent to the Quaker City chapter of Philadelphia relative to the recent death of its regent, Mrs. George W. Kendrick, Jr., who was well known to many members of the Pittsburgh chapter.

Meeting of Juvenile Court Committee.

The juvenile court committee met yesterday. There was a large attendance and reports were presented. Mrs. James J. Turner paid in to the treasury $21.50, which was raised for the juvenile court work by some of the children in Shadyside, who gave a little play, "The Fairies' Lesson," under the direction of Miss Rebecca Turner, in the billiard room of Mrs. Turner's home, in Wallingford street. The play was presented on Friday, May 29, and among the girls who took part in it were Rebecca Turner, Lucille Morse, Edwina Morse, Louise Alderdice, Louise Stephenson, Elizabeth Stephenson, Elizabeth Marshall, Amelia Turner, Marion Patton and Loraine Milligan. A special meeting of the committee will be held in a couple of weeks when some new plans will be laid before the women.

Alumnae Association Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Alumnae association of the Pennsylvania college for women was held yesterday afternoon in Dilworth hall. Miss Edith Eoborn, the president, presided over the meeting and delivered an address welcoming into the association the members of the class of 1903. Miss Edeburn was elected to the presidency of the association in the winter to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. Charles Henry Kerr, who died in January. At the election yesterday afternoon Miss Edeburn was elected president; Miss Georgiana Negley, vice president; Mrs. R. G. Armstrong, secretary; Miss Eva Baird, treasurer. The board of directors for the "Recorder," the alumnae journal, includes the following: Mr. George Porter, Miss Rosetta Moore, Miss Mary Bruce and Miss Eleanor Fitzgibbon. Miss Ann Houston is the advising member.

The meeting was followed by the dinner given by President and Mrs. Martin of the college to the alumnae. It was held in the college dining room, and covers for over 100, including the out-of-town alumnae, the resident students, the members of the graduating class and the faculty. The decorations consisted of white carnations. At the president's table were seated President and Mrs. Martin, the members of the class of 1903, Miss Jane B. Clark, an honorary member of the class, Miss Edeburn, Mrs. Walter Mellor and Mrs. George Porter. Miss Edeburn acted as toastmistress and offered a toast to the members of the graduating class. Miss Harriet Duff responded for the graduates. Mrs. George Porter spoke on "The College Note Book," and Dr. Martin on "The College."

Public Baths Committee.

The regular meeting of the public baths committee was held yesterday morning in the Civic club rooms and locations were discussed for the establishment of a new bath house. A committee consisting of Mrs. Dallas Albert, chairman; Mrs. Franklin P. Iams, Mrs. Dick, Mrs. Berry, Mrs. Wright and Mrs. Rufus Martin, was appointed to visit places designated as suitable locations. The recent addition to the public bath house in Penn avenue, erected several years ago by Mrs. William Thaw, Jr., and which will be ready for use in a few days, it is expected, was fully discussed.

PERSONALS

Congressman Ernest F. Acheson of Washington, Pa., accompanied by his wife, left last night for Boston. They go there to attend the commencement of a Boston college of which his daughter is a graduate of this year's class. Speaking of the fight between Washington, Lawrence and Beaver counties he said: "At the meeting to be held in Pittsburgh June 27 I feel confident that a settlement will be reached. I think the committee will agree upon the Crawford county method, which is the popular vote system."

Frank D. Millet, the well-known portrait painter and war correspondent, is in Pittsburgh. He expects to remain here about three weeks, during which time he will do a portrait of Anna Pearson Hall, the little daughter of Robert C. Hall. Mr. Millet is not a stranger in this city, having passed through here as drummer boy with a Massachusetts regiment in 1864, and also exhibited his pictures in the Carnegie art gallery. Mr. Millet says Pittsburgh is spoken of all over the world as a wonderful center of art and music.

President James A. Moffat, D. D., LL. D., of the Washington and Jefferson college left last night for Philadelphia and Lancaster. At the latter place on Sunday he will preach a sermon to the students and friends of the Franklin and Marshall college. Senor E. A. Pezet, secretary of the Peruvian legation at Washington, and Senora Pezet have been prevailed upon to extend their visit in Pittsburgh a few days. They have been busy socially since here and the senor has not been able to deliver the lectures he intended. He will speak of the romantic history of Peru at the Hotel Schenley on Monday night.

Representatives of 13 ice-making machinery concerns met at the Henry last night. Those present represented factories between New Jersey and Wisconsin. It is said they are meeting to arrange for consolidation. The delegates refused to divulge their intentions.

LINER AGAIN AFLOAT.

The Deutschland Ran Aground Twice Before Getting Out of New York Harbor.

NEW YORK, June 5.—(Special.)—The Hamburg-American liner the Deutschland, which went aground off Sandy Hook, was floated late this afternoon and at once proceeded to sea. It required the combined effort of seven tugs and the engines of the Deutschland to get the vessel afloat.

After the monster liner was free from the mud, the tide pulled it on the second time before the engines could get control of the speed. Again the tugs began pulling and puffing and finally the bottom was freed. Capt. Behrens at once started for sea and the fleet of tugs, blowing their whistles, followed the Deutschland until she passed the bar. Wireless telegraphy was used to notify Sandy Hook of the vessel being aground.

INSURES HIS LIFE, THEN DROPS DEAD

MONTGOMERY, ALA., June 5.—(Special.)—While indorsing a check to pay the premium on a life insurance policy for $10,000 which he had just taken out, J. S. Farrier dropped dead here today in the Farmers' bank. Mr. Farrier on leaving home told his wife that he would renew his life policy which expired at noon. Farrier wrote his check and tendered it to the teller and the latter noticed that the check was not indorsed and handed it back. As Farrier began writing his indorsement he reeled and fell dead.

CHANGE TOO RADICAL.

Liturgical Revision Occupies the Attention of the Reformed Church Synod.

ASBURY PARK, N. J., June 5.—(Special.)—Liturgical revision was the great bone of contention in the Reformed church synod today. The committee appointed to revise the forms of the church presented a report yesterday which did more in the way of eliminating and liturgical abbreviation than the delegates as a whole were prepared to support. The marriage service has been deftly manipulated so as to leave out the word "obey." The communion service had also been shortened, as some delegates thought, at the expense of scriptural truth and good order. It was apparent at the outset today that the revision would meet with a strong protest. The Rev. Dr. George Bishop of East Orange led the opposition.

Sentiment is about equally divided on the question of liturgical reform and the final outcome is somewhat in doubt, although it is possible that some sort of a compromise will be proposed. The Rev. Dr. Kittredge presented a glowing report on the state of religion this afternoon, showing an advance in the Reformed church all along the line. Word was received from the Reformed Episcopal council that a delegate would be sent to the next synod.

The Rev. Hugh Stergeon Dead.

The Rev. Hugh Stergeon, D. D., aged 82, died at his home in Darlington, Pa., yesterday of paralysis. He was one of the best-known United Presbyterian ministers in Western Pennsylvania and had been in the ministry over 50 years. He was graduated from the Jefferson college in the class of 1848. He had been married three times. His second wife was a daughter of the late Dr. George Scott of Darlington and his third wife, who survives, is a daughter of the late James Cook of Darlington. He had lived in Darlington a number of years and was for many years pastor of the United Presbyterian church of that place. The surviving children are John of Chicago, George of East Palestine, O.; William of Darlington, Mrs. Johnston of Indiana and Mrs. R. F. Ray of Rochester.

NEW 'PHONE TESTED.

It Employes a Force That Old Systems Are Endeavoring to Eliminate.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—(Special.)—A preliminary test of a submarine telephone, invented by C. D. Vaughn of New Jersey, was made in this city over the Postal Telegraph-Cable Company's system. One instrument was placed in the office of Superintendent Lemon and the other one was stationed in a rear office. The conversation traveled first to Pittsburgh, then back to Philadelphia, to Washington, back to Philadelphia, to Baltimore, then to New York, then back to Baltimore, and to Philadelphia again, to the other instrument only 60 feet away.

R. B. Bassett, a telephone expert who was present at the test, said the difference between the new and ordinary telephone is that Vaughn has employed a force which the cable and telephone companies have been trying to overcome—that is, static induction. The static induction is greater in the cable than in aerial lines, and that is why this is a submarine telephone. It does not require two wires, as the present telephones do. With the present-day instrument it is scarcely possible to talk across Philadelphia on a ground circuit.

BERATED THE MINISTER.

Young Woman in Georgia Church Declines to Submit to Sharp Rebuke.

GREENVILLE, GA., June 5.—(Special.)—Rebuked by the Rev. F. P. Spencer for whispering in church, Miss Sarah Heard advanced to the pulpit and severely berated the minister. The scene occurred last night at the Methodist church, where revival services are in progress.

There was some whispering in the rear of the church which annoyed the preacher, and finally, singling Miss Heard out, he administered a sharp rebuke. The young lady immediately arose, advanced to the pulpit and replied to the preacher in kind, alleging she was not whispering and he had no right to reprove her.

PEACE IN NICARAUGUA.

Government Secures Boats by Which to Make Attack on Entrenched Insurgents.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Minister Merry reports the suppression of the rebellion in Nicaragua. The rebellion lasted two months, the government being unable during that time to come at the rebels, who possessed the only steamers on Lake Nicaragua and held the islands in the lake. Finally the government had some boats carried by rail over to the lake and made short work of the insurrection.

To pay the soldiers, the government then levied a forced loan amounting to about $70,000 American money, raising most of this in Grenada, where the rebellion had been strongest.

He Is a Former Pittsburgher.

The Rev. S. E. McCormick, president of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, Ia., who has been chosen president of the Pennsylvania College for Women, is a former Pittsburgher, having been a member of the Allegheny county bar and later pastor of the Central Presbyterian church, Allegheny. The committee of three appointed to notify Mr. McCormick and if possible secure his acceptance, will get in communication with him at once.

OLEO WAS FED TO COUNTY PAUPERS

Commissioners of Jefferson County Have Violated the Pure Food Law.

SUIT HAS BEEN ENTERED

Superintendent of the Home as Well as the Commissioners Claim That They Were Ignorant of the Law—Other Prosecutions Are to Follow.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
HARRISBURG, PA., June 5.

For feeding oleomargarine to the inmates of the Jefferson county almshouse at Brookville, State Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren has ordered the arrest of Superintendent J. N. Kelley and county commissioners, Newton Webster, Al Hawk and H. D. Haugh. The county authorities admit their guilt and it is xpected they will plead guilty and be fined $100 and the costs, as were the commissioners of Lycoming county, whom Warren recently prosecuted for furnishing oleo to the inmates of the almshouse at Williamsport.

There are no directors of the poor in Jefferson county, and the county commissioners have charge of the almshouse. James Foust of Altoona, division agent of the bureau, visited the almshouse last Friday and found 200 pounds of oleomargarine. Superintendent Kelley and the county commissioners admitted that for more than a year they have been giving the inmates of the home oleomargarine.

"The county authorities pleaded ignorance of the law, which prescribes a maximum penalty of $1,000 fine and two years' imprisonment. Samples of the oleomargarine taken at Brookville home were analyzed by Dr. William Frear, at State college, and today when Warren received the report of the analysis he directed Foust to bring suit against Kelley and the county commissioners.

Warren has planned a campaign against the adulteration of lard in Philadelphia. Samples have been taken by agents for the dairy and food bureau, and out of a total of 68 from Philadelphia subjected to analysis by the state chemists, 49 were found to be adulterated. Prosecutions will follow promptly. Suits are being prepared in Delaware, Chester and other counties in Eastern Pennsylvania against dealers in adulterated foods, including Hamburg steak.

Commissioner Warren today made public a letter addressed to Secretary of Agriculture Critchfield, enclosing his personal check for $215.75 which sum represents $56 paid to Representative Samuel Ripp of Philadelphia, as a special agent, and $115 paid to Representative Harry K. Daugherty of Grove City, as an attorney for the bureau. Warren explains that this money is for services rendered during the month of May by Ripp and Daugherty, and that as they are not eligible to appointment in the bureau, he is not satisfied that they should be paid from the state funds.

Critchfield says the vouchers have not yet been turned into the auditor general's office and the commissioner's check, being placed to the credit of the dairy and food account, corrects the error and keeps the account straight without any loss occurring to the state. The incident will probably be closed by Ripp and Daugherty returning to Warren the money paid to them.

FIERCE LEGAL BATTLE FOR HOTEL DUQUESNE

D. F. Henry and Wife Arrayed Against the Mellons. Preliminary Injunctions Issued to Prevent a Possible Sale.

Preliminary injunctions were issued yesterday to restrain Mrs. Sarah L. Black, the owner of the Hotel Duquesne, from selling it to A. H., R. B., or J. E. Mellon, and the Union Realty Company and R. B. Coyle from surrendering an option alleged to have been placed upon the hotel property.

This action was taken at the instance of Mrs. Annie E. Henry, who also filed a bill in equity against Mrs. Black asking for the specific performance of a contract for the sale of the property. Mrs. Henry alleges that on May 7 the defendant gave Coyle, acting for the Union Realty Company, a 30 days' option on the property, and on May 29 Coyle turned the option over to John K. Ewing, a director of the Union Realty Company, and that on June 1 Mrs. Henry through her husband, D. F. Henry, owner of the Hotel Henry, and Ewing contracted for the purchase of the property, and paid $50,000 to the Union Realty Company.

Mrs. Henry says she has been informed that Ewing, accompanied by Coyle, took the agreement of purchase to Mrs. Black for her signature, but that she refused to sign, saying she wished to consult her attorney. It is charged that Mrs. Black refused to sell the property, but entered into negotiations with one or all of the Mellons and is about to enter into a contract with them for the sale of the property.

In the bill against the Union Realty Company it is said the consideration was to be $800,000, of which $25,000 was to be in cash and the balance, $775,000, was to be secured by bond and mortgage. In conclusion it is stated if the agreement is not carried out the Hotel Henry property will be greatly damaged.

A hearing will be held Monday.

A cash tender of $225,000 as first payment was made by the Mellons yesterday, it is said, to Mrs. Black's attorneys, but was refused, although it is reported that the whole sum which they have offered for the property is $840,000, or $40,000 in excess of the selling price. Mr. Henry at once covered the tender and nothing definite will be done until next week.

WESTERN UNION MAKES NEW MOVE

Files Petition for Condemnation of Right of Way for Its Wires.

QUOTES A LAW PASSED IN 1866

Prayer Relates to That Portion of the Pennsylvania System Between Philadelphia and Washington—Railroad Denies Right of Condemnation.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

BALTIMORE, June 5.—Isidor Rayner, counsel for the Western Union Telegraph Company, today filed in the United States circuit court a petition for condemnation of a right of way for its poles and wires along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad between Philadelphia and Washington.

The petition claims the right to condemn under an act of congress passed on July 24, 1866, which provides for the right of telegraph companies to construct their systems along the post roads of the United States, it being contended that the Pennsylvania railroad is such a road. The petition asks the court to appoint commissioners, or to empanel a jury, or issue a writ to make inquiry and assessment of the compensation to be paid by the telegraph company to the railroad company for the use of its right of way. It bears the affidavit of Mr. Robert C. Clowry, president of the Western Union Telegraph Company. The main question involved is whether the Western Union Telegraph Company has the right to condemn, along the lines of the railroad company, under the act of 1866. The railroad company denies the right of condemnation and the telegraph company claims it. This issue, as appears from the briefs, involves complicated questions of constitutional law.

The counsel of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, who have thus far appeared in the case are John G. Johnson of Philadelphia, and Messrs. Patterson, Sterrett and Acheson and Messrs. Dalzell, Scott & Gordon of Pittsburgh. The company's counsel here are Messrs. Bernard Carter and John J. Donaldson.

PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—Counsel representing the Pennsylvania Railroad Company today filed in the United States circuit court of appeals an answer to the suit recently instituted by the Western Union Telegraph Company, which asked the court to modify its decree which held that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company had a legal right to remove the poles and wires of the telegraph company from along the right of way of the railroad.

Three reasons why the order of the court should not be modified are given by the railroad company: That no final decree should be entered; that there is no right of appeal to the supreme court of the United States, and that no order of supersedeas should be granted.

JEWS ARE BLAMED FOR MASSACRES

Russian Imperial Officer Gives Some Light on the Kishineff Outrages.

SCORE THEIR OWN POLICE

Admit That Inadequate Protection Was Given — Hundreds of Offenders Doomed to Siberian Exile—American Lynchings Touched Upon.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, June 5.—An official statement from the Russian government in regard to the anti-Semitic outbreak at Kishineff has been received by the Christian Herald. It was sent in response to a cablegram sent the czar asking for an official report. The letter is as follows:

Russia's agricultural and laboring population is ill at ease living the second life with Jewish immigrants of widely developed commercial instincts, active intelligence and ingenuity, the material differences in racial and religious character coming to the verge of frenzy at the most possible occasion. The studied reticence existing between the Russians and Jews of Bessarabia were made worse by the fact of finding in an outlying village a murdered Christian boy.

The country was attributed to the Jewish ritual murder. Official denials of the ritual murder were discredited by the peasants, who attributed other murders of Christians in the bureaus of Kieff and Kishineff likewise to the Jews.

POLICE ARE INADEQUATE.

On Easter in the market place of Kishineff the workers, while on a holiday, saw a Jewish proprietor of a carousing machine strike a Christian woman, who fell to the ground with her infant babe. This incident was the immediate cause of an outbreak. The workers began breaking windows and pulling down Jewish stores as a sign of protest.

The police, who always leave much to be desired in Russia, failed to make efficacious intervention, many thousands of the mass of onlookers and holiday makers approving the riot and hindering the police-men's attempts. After demonstrators came plunderers, the outbreak lasting from 5 in the afternoon to 10 in the evening and leaving nine Jewish bodies on the place. Night brought the disturbers to an end.

What goes far to prove the momentous character of the outbreak in letting loose the popular passions with the strength of natural forces is that on Monday morning the Jews, visiting to withhold and inflict punishment on the Christian workers, began assembling on the market place in groups armed with stocks and other weapons. The Jews, being the more numerous, had the best of it in the first two encounters and a Christian was seen to fall, receiving a bullet wound.

QUIET SUR AT AMERICA.

This called forth the popular passion in all its abject force and abomination, the Russian peasants, when driven to frenzy and excited by race and religious hatred and under the influence of alcohol, being worse than the American or Irish negroes.

Undismayed by the governor of Bessarabia did not make his appearance in person on Easter and on Monday he gave over the command to military men, who he had no right to do, as he, in consequence, laid the police aside and, on the other hand, left the military forces without actual guidance. Troops can take towns by assault, but cannot carry out police duties without special instructions.

In the end the town, having been divided into districts with a special military command in each, the disturbances ceased on Monday evening. By this time the minister of the interior ordered by wire the proclamation of martial law and ten unprecedented facts had sent the director of the police department to investigate as to the responsibilities of the local officials. In consequence the governor, the chief of the police and some other officials were dismissed outright, many hundreds of rioters are in prison and hard work in the Siberian mines awaits them.

The minister of the interior has issued a circular to governors all over Russia authorizing them to make immediate use of firearms in cases of anti-Jewish disturbances. The Russian government is the first to disapprove of such horrid acts of violence, but it cannot, in compliance with the requests of a radical and reprehensible press give the Jews new rights of citizenship, as this would be sure to drive the Russian population to new excesses against the Jews, who are hated by the peasants with such extraordinary force.

SYMPATHY FOR JEWS EXPRESSED BY MANY

Prominent Citizens Participate in a Mass Meeting in Washington.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Twelve hundred persons gathered in the Columbia theater today to denounce the atrocities against the Jews at Kishineff. Men prominent in the nation's affairs sent letters protesting against the outrages. The meeting was called to order by Corporal Tanner, who also spoke forcefully for "The Heart and Conscience."

Among those who addressed the meeting were President H. B. F. MacFarland of the board of district commissioners; the Rev. Dr. D. J. Stafford of St. Patrick's church; the Rev. Tunis S. Hamlin, pastor of the Church of the Covenant; Representative M. Goldfogle of the Ninth New York district; the Rev. Dr. Rollin Cotton Smith, rector of St. John's church, and Simon Wolf. All expressed the hope that the United States government might see its way clear to use its good offices with Russia to the end that the Jews in that country might be relieved of the intolerant restrictions by which they now are surrounded.

Letters were read from the Hon. Joseph B. Foraker, Gen. O. O. Howard, ex-Secretary of the Treasury George C. Boutwell, Senator L. E. McComas, Carl Schurz and ex-President Grover Cleveland. The latter wrote he only that he had been expressed fully at the New York Carnegie hall meeting. Announcement of his name was received with enthusiastic applause.

Resolutions condemning the persecution of the Jews and expressing sympathy for the co-religionists in America, were adopted and a copy of the same ordered sent to President Roosevelt and the secretary of state.

Class Day and Other Exercises in Many Institutions of Learning in and About Pittsburgh

Class day exercises at the Allegheny Preparatory school, in Lincoln avenue, Allegheny, were conducted yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium. The class of eight girls and boys who graduated on Tuesday evening in Calvary Methodist Episcopal church was the first to leave the school, which was founded three years ago and whose patrons include a number of the wealthy and prominent men of the North Side. The gymnasium was decorated with palms and a profusion of flowers and the entire class took part in the program. William Locke is the class president and made the opening address, followed by the class history, given by Miss Jane Torrance. Miss Florence McLeod Gregg spoke for the faculty, Miss Marjory Agnes Wheeler read the class poem and the class prophecies were given by Miss Ella Graham Stephenson. Miss Ruth Zimmers read the class prophecy, Joseph Robb Carson addressed the juniors and John Renshaw Carson gave the farewell to the class of the under class. The whole was a pretty affair, the girls wearing gowns of thin sheer muslin material of every color. An informal dance followed the exercises.

In the early evening Alfred Montague, a professor in the school, and Mrs. Montague gave a dinner at their home in Ewsworth in honor of the graduates. Henry C. Pierson, who has been the principal of the Allegheny Preparatory school since it was founded, remained to see the first class graduate. He has accepted a similar position in the Horace Mann school in New York city. The girls of this year's class will all go to Vassar, with the possible exception of Miss Jane Torrance and Miss Ella Stephenson. The Carson boys will enter Princeton in the fall and William Locke will go to Yale.

LUNCHEON FOR GRADUATES.

Following the commencement exercises at the Thurston preparatory school in Shady avenue, East End, Miss Thurston entertained the members of the graduating class and the faculty of the college preparatory department at a luncheon given at the Hotel Kenmawr. Covers were laid for 18 and the table decorations were pink roses. The graduates were Miss Edith Allerton, Miss Nancy Finnigan, Miss Ruth Wilkins, Miss Mary Jacobs, Miss Jean McGirr and Miss Helen Thompson, who have been under the instruction of Miss Potter. Miss Potter took first honors, having had the highest average for the four years. The second honors were received by Miss Bingaman.

The commencement exercises, consisted of the usual closing exercises, reading of reports and awarding of prizes in the various departments. The distribution of prizes was as follows: Attendance, Miss Eleanor Carpenter, Miss Jean McGirr; Miss Marie Vincent, Miss Jane Ayler, Miss Adelaide Everson, Miss Margaret Hallock, Miss Jeannette Corbett, Miss Lottie Robinson, Miss Marie Everson, Dwight McKelvey, Miss Jane Simpson, Howe Wurts, John Bissell and Margaret Merwin; department, Mary Eathinson, Sarah Hogg and Edna Simpson, Sarah Crumbine, Miss Pauline Nimick, Lulu Bissell Bradford, Margaret Merwin, Elizabeth Fellon, George Hoffman, Thomas Kennedy, Marshall Kelhi and Howe Nimick; highest yearly average, Miss Ruth Nimick; highest yearly average, Miss Ruth Nimick; primary writing, John Bissell and Margaret Merwin

"As You Like It" at the College.

Unusual interest attaches to the commencement season at the Pennsylvania College for Women this year because of the inauguration of a new feature in the class day exercises. A portion of the campus facing Woodland drive-way which leads to the college buildings has been arranged for the performance of "As You Like It," which will be given for the first time of doors in Pittsburgh with as far as possible a setting modeled upon the performance in the Elizabethan period. The stage will be the section of the lawn beside Old Laughlin preparatory house, which will be screened by an artificial hedge. The seats for the spectators rise the upon tier up the hillside across the path leading to the stables. The play will take the place of the usual class day exercises. The actors, who compose the senior class, with some of the undergraduates, will march to the campus escorted by 100 junior students, who will form a daisy chain. They will all be in white. The curtains will be drawn aside by small pages in white satin and the production, judging from the rehearsals which have been held, will be presented with a fine degree of artistic and natural dramatic ability. Nearly 2,000 invitations were sent out for class day and every one of which reads "As You Like It" will be in attendance, together with many who are journeying to the college especially to see the play. If it rains the play will be given Monday afternoon. An art exhibition and reception was held yesterday afternoon from 2 until 6 in the studio, where Miss Jane Bostwick received.

Scope of Chatham School Enlarged.

The Chatham school in South Highland avenue, East End, closed yesterday. The final exercises were omitted because of the Memorial day program held on the previous Friday. An interesting feature of the morning was the opening of the children's deposit bank, which contained their penny savings for the year. Fifty dollars was the total deposited by them, which will be used to defray the expenses of six little people for a two weeks' outing at the Lillian home, recently opened under the auspices of Kingsley house. Many improvements have been planned for the coming year, and third and fourth primary classes will be established under the supervision of Miss Marian Hammond, a graduate of Mt. Holyoke, and a postgraduate of a normal college in New York. There will also be manual training classes under a competent instructor. In order to conduct the enlarged work the adjoining building at No. 1705 Highland avenue has been secured and will be connected with a covered porch. This addition will also enlarge the playground and flower and vegetable gardens, which the little kindergartners cultivate. Miss Blanche Boardman will continue as director of the school faculty, with Miss Taylor and Miss Richards, members of the faculty.

Hospital Nurses Graduate.

Commencement exercises of the training school for nurses were held at the West Penn hospital last night. This is the first class to graduate under the non-payment system, the nurses having, until recently, been paid. The graduates were introduced by Robert Pitcairn, president of the hospital board, who also presented them with their diplomas. Three prizes in gold were given for proficiency in the class of 1903. Miss Minnie Bell received the largest, $50; Miss Marie L. Taylor, the second prize, $30, and Miss Helen Bohlander, the third prize, $20. The other graduates are: Elizabeth C. Farrick, Henrietta M. Rieneman, Bertha E. Shirley, Lucy Cole, Florence R. Bowlsbott, M. Henrietta Irwin, Florence Weller, Lillie E. Crock, Maud Plummer, M. Anna Taylor, Miram E. Young, Virginia M. Clinger, Bertha Buchingham and Celia M. Fryace. After the graduating exercises were over a reception was held in the hall of the hospital.

High School Art Exhibit.

The rooms in the Fifth avenue high school were given up to the annual art exhibit of the normal department yesterday. The exhibit includes pencil work by the D class from models, work of normal pupils in the manual training class, embracing, card work, knife work, bench work, wood carving, basketry and clay modeling; second year work, including free hand drawing, much of it being done from the windows of the room, the pupils selecting bits of scenery across the pools for their studies. There was also considerable charcoal work display. The work of the junior and senior classes included work in brush and ink and brush and water color. All of it was from studies and objects. It included birds, calendars, book covers, designs for carpets, wall papers, stained glass, etc., photograph frames, landscapes and some studies from life. The exhibition is thought to be the best the normal department has ever made.

Western University Commencement.

Commencement exercises of the collegiate and engineering departments of the Western university begin tomorrow week with the baccalaureate sermon in the morning by the Rev. R. H. Ward, D. D. Tuesday the class oratorical contest will be held in Pittsburgh Carnegie music hall. The graduates are: Hugh Arthur, James Edgar Biggins, Willis Bostwick, Thomas Edward Bowden, John Calvin Bretz, Samuel Morrow Dodds, Florence Irene Donaldson, Edward Payne Edwards, Frederick Thomas Fitzharris, Emil Meier Guenther, John Hannon, Jr., David Mathews Hogg, Charles Garfield Hudson, Norman Drayo Mechtcheen, Reg Angelo Mc-Kenna, Harry Egbert Mall, Mabel Elizabeth Morrow, Ralph Woodford Perry, Bertha Gurnette Quick, Louise Mary Smith, Adam Stein, Jr., George Gay Rob, George Hudson Thayer, Charles West Waggoner, Harry Ellsworth Wade, Charles Cecil Warne, Winthrop Sargent Worcester.

Alinda School Closed.

The Alinda school closed yesterday. The girls in the lower grades held a tournament game to celebrate the occasion, those in the eighth grade singing. There were also musical exercises to mark the day, but a number of the older girls who will not return to school in the fall said their farewell to the Alinda by a picnic supper and theatre party. The Misses Douglass and Duff, school teachers, and Rose Marsh goes in the fall to Miss Baldwin's school in Bryn Mawr, where she will spend a year preparing to enter Bryn Mawr college. Miss Miriam Swampower will go to Mt. Margarets at Waterbury, Conn. Miss Mae Nash expects to enter Wellesley college and Miss Hess Pitcairn will probably go to Smith, in Northampton, Mass.

Yale-Princeton Ball Game.

The commencement festivities at Princeton will be inaugurated with the Yale-Princeton ball game today. Samuel S. Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. William S. Miller of Bayard street, Shadyside, is a senior at Princeton this year, and other boys in the junior class are Chris Frick, Moorhead Holland and Frank B. Reed, Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Frick left for Princeton Thursday evening and will witness the game today, and a number of others from this city are going on for the commencement season. Mr. and Mrs. Miller will stop at Bryn Mawr, where their daughter, Miss Katherine Miller, is a student, and together they will go on to the little New Jersey college town.

Carter Conservatory Commencement.

The board of trustees and faculty of the Carter Conservatory of Musical Art have issued invitations for the twelfth annual concert and commencement, which will be connected in the Carnegie music hall on Friday evening, June 12. STOCKS RALLIED AND CLOSED STEADY

Some New Low Points Were Made, but There Was Good Buying on the Decline—Money Easier. Local Securities Weak.

By JOHN O. SAGLIN, Financial Editor.

There was a better feeling at the close of the eastern stock market yesterday than has been experienced this week. The action of the market during the day was very trying on the nerves of traders. The opening was weak. London prices were lower and foreigners were sellers. There was extensive calling of loans, which caused a firm money market. Pennsylvania and Amalgamated Copper, the leader of the market the day before, made new low records in the early dealings, Pennsylvania selling at 123¼ and Amalgamated Copper at 51. These prices proved to be the lowest of the day, and the subsequent support accorded both stocks did much to turn the general market in the final dealings. It was reported that Standard Oil interests had taken over a large block of Copper at 51 before the opening of the market, thus avoiding the necessity for public liquidation. Inasmuch as the houses which were calling money are identified with Standard Oil interests, it was inferred that the operation was for the purpose of paying for stocks acquired by those financial giants. It was estimated that fully $15,000,000 money that had been loaned in the street was called and thus utilized in buying stocks. There was a moderate bracing up of prices between 11 a. m. and noon, but shortly after the noon hour the liquidation broke out in fresh places. There were rather violent breaks in some of the inactive issues, suggesting the execution of stop-loss orders. Hocking Valley was a feature in this respect. On Thursday the stock sold as high as 90, closing at 86. It broke yesterday to 82¼ on small business. Consolidated Gas broke to 192 and General Electric to 175.

The weakest stocks during the afternoon were Baltimore & Ohio, the Goulds and the grangers. All of these sold at the lowest prices of the year. Atchison broke through 70 for the first time in two years. Union Pacific broke through 80 for the first time in three years. St. Paul broke to 148, or just $40 a share below the best price of 1901 and $50 a share below the best price last year. Missouri Pacific declined to 102¼. Texas Pacific to 28, and Missouri, Kansas & Texas prefered to 50. There were smaller losses in stocks of minor railroads in the west and southwest. While these declines were in progress wheat was ruling very strong in the St. Louis market, which is now the center of the flood district, and the advices as to crop damage affected both stocks and grain. In the meantime Sugar dropped 2¼ per cent, but the industrials as a rule held fairly well. A half point covered the fluctuations in United States Steel and Colorado Fuel and Iron and Tennessee Coal and Iron, after declining about 2 per cent, recovered all the loss. There was little relaxation in the selling pressure on the medium class railway shares until after 2 p. m. When the strength in Copper and the support of Pennsylvania, together with the fact that the general list seemed to have been sold to a standstill, began to be felt. A rally ensued, led by Copper, and a considerable portion of the early loss was recovered, the market closing steady. The sales were 880,000 shares.

Expectations regarding today's bank statement underwent some modification during the afternoon. The loss through gold exports and shipments to Canada amounted to between $5,000,000 and $5,500,000. This has been offset to some extent by the receipts of currency from the interior. There was a wide difference, however, between the estimates as to the net loss for the week, ranging from $1,000,000 to $3,000,000. Expectations of a reduction in the loan item have been disappointed so often during the past few weeks that there was no guessing on this point. Under ordinary circumstances, the enormous liquidation that has taken place should be reflected in a corresponding decrease in loans; but the present stock market is no ordinary one. Call loan rates ruled between 4½ to 4 per cent during the greater portion of the day, but later eased off and closed at 1½ per cent.

Yesterday's local stock market was the weakest that has been experienced for many days. Westinghouse Electric bore the brunt of the selling, the bulk of which probably represented liquidation on the part of those who do not intend to take up their subscriptions. The first payment of $30 a share must be made not later than 3 p. m. on Monday next, and transactions in the rights, which reached a total of 3,400 shares, were all for cash, there being no deliveries of stocks today. The rights declined to 1¼, closing at the lowest. The stock after selling at 92½, broke to 88¾, but recovered to 90 at the close. Another weak feature was Manufacturers Light and Heat, which sold at 39¾, the lowest since the distribution of the recent 200 per cent stock dividend. Ohio Fuel Supply declined to 42 and Pittsburgh Oil and Gas, an unlisted stock, sold down to 80. National Fire Proofing was also weak, the common declining to 24½ and the preferred to 85¾. Only 50 shares Crucible Steel changed hands all day, selling at 15¾, but the stock closed lower at 15½ bid, 15¾ asked. The preferred declined to and closed at 80¾. United States Steel followed the course of the eastern market, declining to 31 for the common and to 81⅛ for the preferred, and both closing at or near the lowest. Pittsburgh Coal common held steady at 28, but the preferred declined to 85¾. River Coal common was a shade lower at 10½, but the preferred held steady at 39¾@40. There was very little change in the remainder of the industrial list.

Bank and trust stocks were dull and weak. Small lots of Colonial changed hands at 600, a decline of 20 points. There were no sales of American, which was nominally quoted at 526 asked, and closed without bid all day. Federal National bank was 3 per cent lower at 170, and Second National dropped 10 points to 830. Real Estate Trust was quoted at 207½ bid, 208 asked, and Commonwealth at 225 bid, 240 asked. German American Savings and Trust was unchanged at 166@168½. North American Savings declined to 150. Merchants' Savings and Trust to 68. There was nothing doing in the bond list and prices remained nominally unchanged.

BIG PURCHASE ON NORTH SIDE

Local Merchant Buys No. 421 Federal Street, a Three-Story Brick Building for $70,500.

TWO MORE ALLEGHENY DEALS

East End Property Sold for $34,000. Wylie Avenue Deal of $75,000—Negley Avenue Frontage Brings $20,000—Junction Sells Lawrenceville Land.

Three sales of Allegheny property were reported yesterday, all of them in business localities. The largest deal was made by H. C. Mendel & Co. who sold No. 421 Federal street for $70,500. The former owner was John Thompson, president of the First National bank of Allegheny, and the buyer is a North Side merchant. The lot measures 25.5x100 feet on the west side of Federal street, the second door below Parkway, and has on it a three-story brick building, occupied by the Jones Dry Goods company.

These brokers also closed the sale to the same buyer of the Schwarz property at No. 422 Federal street, at Parkway, for $80,000. This is occupied by the Hansen-Huckenstein Drug Company and the preliminaries in the sale were announced two weeks ago. As the lot measures 20x100 feet, the new owner now has a frontage of 43.5 feet by a uniform depth of 100 feet, which cost him on an average of $1,075 a front foot, or $39.75 a square foot.

IS STILL BUYING.

Another Allegheny deal was made through the office of W. L. Scott & Co. who sold for Miss Julia Carson and Mrs. E. G. Thompson No. 13 East Lacock street, for $30,000. It is known as the Brighton hotel and consists of a four-story brick building on a lot 20x75 feet. The buyer is Frank McCann, who has recently acquired four other properties in Lacock street in the immediate vicinity.

The third sale, made by J. H. Beck & Co., was the property of G. D. Simen, on the north side of Ohio street, near East Diamond street. It has a frontage of 20 feet by a depth of 78 feet, and was bought for $20,000, or just $1,000 a front foot. The two-story building on the lot will be torn down at once by the purchaser, Joseph Ilenberger, to give place to a modern three-story brick hotel, which will cost at least $20,000. The need of such a hostelry in this part of Allegheny is greatly felt and it should be a paying investment from the start.

EAST END SALE OF $34,000.

Through the agency of J. T. O'Donnell of the East End the property of Mrs. B. E. Kunkle, in Frankstown avenue, has been sold for $34,000. It is on the south side of the avenue, having a frontage of 18 feet and running back to Penn avenue 90 feet. On the lot is a three-story brick building occupied as stores and offices. The property was bought by an East End investor and is the first sale made of business property in this vicinity for several months.

An option has been secured and the sale is currently reported of the Henry Smith property at the southeast corner of Wylie avenue and Federal street for $75,000. The property is one of the best-known in the hill district and occupies a good business corner. The lot is 61x100 feet, extending back to a 10-foot alley which connects with the rear of the property. The building is a four-story brick, the first floor of which is used for stores and the upper floors for apartments, there being 40 rooms, which the owners rent. The property will be secured, it is said, by a number of Fifth avenue business men, who take it as an investment.

The sale is also reported of 160 feet of the McKelvey frontage on the west side of North Negley avenue for $20,000, or $125 a front foot. The plot has a depth of 150 feet and the reputed buyer is an East End man, who will improve it with three two-story brick houses to cost $12,000 each. It is only a short distance from Wallsey avenue and across Negley avenue from the Wilkins Drew holdings.

IN THE VERY DIM DISTANCE.

The story which was exploited in a morning paper yesterday as a big hump deal, viz., the deal for the Ward holdings in Old Allegheny, east of Reed street, has not the remotest semblance of a deal according to the statement of the property owners. Capt. J. R. Whitaker, manager of the Ward estate holdings said that when the offer of $150,000 was made for the property he promptly informed the would-be buyer that no such offer would be entertained, as the property has been held for months at $190,000 and under present conditions would be worth more. He finally accepted a check of $1,000 to satisfy the persistent applicant, but no papers were signed nor was any option given, as he declared that the property would not be sold at any such figure. To effect a sale at all the signatures of 20 heirs are necessary, so that the property is as free as ever.

The article was in error yesterday in stating that the McGeagh holdings at Fifth avenue and Federal street had been sold to members of the Fifth Avenue Realty Company. The deal which this company did negotiate was for the sale of 5 new dwellings, located with three three-story brick buildings and situated in Fifth avenue near Vine street. The price was $51,000, or $850 a front foot, which is considered reasonable for realty in that locality.

A BIG RAILROAD TRANSFER.

The Pittsburgh Junction Terminal Company and the Pittsburgh Junction Railroad Company have conveyed to the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company an irregular shaped plot on the northeast side of Thirty-sixth street, extending through to Thirty-seventh street, from Allegheny river to Foreman street, for $110,000. The extreme dimension of the plot are 121x360x348 feet, and it is to be used for yards by the purchasing company.

The McClure Company has got title from John J. and Mary M. O'Connor to 100x75 feet at Second avenue and Redoubt alley for $100,000.

Mrs. Killgallen has bought from Eliza Moran a residence property, 24x130 feet, in Fenn avenue near Thirteenth street, for $15,500.

The Safe Deposit and Trust Company, administrator of the estate of Lot Phillip Klingerman, has sold to Jacob M. Friedman and Simon D. Rosenfeld three lots facing in Carson street and adjoining the property of the Birmingham Glass Company in the Twenty-eighth ward for $10,000. The largest of the lots is 17x55 feet and the property is improved with old buildings.

CLEARED $5,000 IN THE DEAL.

Louis Cohen and Jacob Tannenbaum have resold Nos. 36 and 38 Second avenue for $35,000, the buyer being a local business man. The lot is 40x90 feet and has on it two three-story brick houses. They paid $30,000 for the property. Mr. Cohen has also bought from Morris Saidudowsky a one-half interest in No. 3841 Federal street for $12,500. It consists of a lot 20x80 feet improved with a three-story brick building.

Seidel Bros. have sold to George S. Weir of the firm of T. G. Weir & Sons, wagonmakers, two properties on the west side of Ridge street, Etna, for $17,000. One of them, a lot 40x185 feet, was secured from N. G. Ayers and the other lot, of the same size, was bought from Mrs. Sarah J. Dickey of Tarentum. The purchaser will remodel the buildings at a cost of $10,000 and start a branch establishment.

Thomas McCaffrey has sold to Joseph B. Glockner Nos. 34 and 38 Chatham street, formerly owned by Henry Kober, for $8,000. The lots are 20x72 feet each and are improved with brick houses. The same broker sold for William Forsythe to the same buyer No. 32 Thirtieth street, a brick house on lot 36x72 feet, for $7,500.

The Aaronson Realty Company has sold for G. Clothworthy to H. Bremen and others a two-story brick building at No. 308 Wylie avenue, between Washington and Federal street, for $15,000. The lot is 20x80 feet, making the rate of sale about $750 a front foot. The same company sold for Michael Flinn to David Epstein three brick houses on Lots 80x30 feet in Nos. 3, 5 and 17 Locust street, for $8,000. For Jacob Bittle the Szlesnick they sold to the Fifth Avenue Realty Company No. 1507 Wylie avenue, a three-story brick business block on lot 22x120 feet, for $10,200.

Klein of the North Side branch of the Consolidated Real Estate Company sold for August Langenheim to Mortetta Seed a two-story brick building on lot 25x120 feet in Washington avenue, Allegheny, for $8,000. Of these 17 were for brick, 18 for frame, one for brick veneered, one for iron and one for concrete and stone. The Sixth ward led, with a total of $62,800.

ADVANCED PRICES FOR TIMOTHY HAY AND OATS

Influenced by an excellent demand, for which there is but a limited supply, timothy hay went forward in price yesterday, both quoted grades being affected. Sellers asked $19.50 for No. 1 and were firm in their holdings, while bids on change ran as high as $19 on No. 1 timothy, which is being retailed at some days, and the market is in a very strong condition. Dealers have been predicting $20 as the price for good hay, which would be concluded by the end of the season, but their expectations are in a fair way to be realized. Oats are scarce and prices went higher. In western markets the same condition prevails and quotations are strong. Corn is weaker than a week ago, selling and prices have gone higher. Corn is unchanged and middlings remain at former figures.

Wholesale grocers still contend that flour should be higher and more exact figures than they are obtaining and threaten to move prices to a higher range. Already some attempts have been made to force quotations up, and there may be some altering of the list the first of the week. Coffee is unchanged and primal markets are easy. There has been little change in prices for green coffee for over a month. Sugar is selling at the same figures as at the opening, although the demand is increasing and jobbers are getting more restless than ever as they contemplate losses growing with growing trade, and will likely do something to help themselves to work out the tangle and securing more remunerative prices soon. Beans are steady but unchanged. Salt fish quotations are just as they have been for several weeks, new mackerel not yet offering.

Fruit and produce prices remained without actual change yesterday and trade was fairly active. Strawberries were offered in large lots at the first of the week, with much of the poor stock out of the way. Blackberries and huckleberries held at prices of Thursday. Mississippi tomatoes have commenced to arrive and prices are in line with quotations from Florida. String beans were moving out very rapidly yesterday and quotations were a trifle stronger. New peas steady. Home grown produce is still in good supply and nothing checked growth and prices are very firm.

There is a continued active demand for lemons, with a moderate call for oranges, while bananas are in light supply, and steady sellers. California cherries are still plentiful, with prices unchanged. Apricots from the Pacific coast are on the way here and are due in the market at any time. Box apples from New Mexico are of fine quality and bring $2.

No change in butter or cheese, both holding firm. Eggs are cheaper in the country, but unchanged in price in the local market. Supplies this week are about sufficient for the demand and quotations have not been changed for some time.

There is nothing in the way of feature in the poultry market. Quotations are all unchanged and receipts are only moderate.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, June 5.—The drygoods market has been more or less conservative and yet here and there very considerable business has been effected. Buyers are willing to pay the advance as a rule, but are not purchasing any more than sufficient to cover their current requirements. The supply of cotton is growing very depleted in many southern mills, especially the increase of those who will curtail production is very material.

ACTIVE TRADING IN ALL THE GRAIN PITS

Prices Ruled Higher at Opening, but Became Easier During the Day.

(By Associated Press to The Gazette.)

CHICAGO, June 5.—Trading in all the grain pits was of large volume and wheat prices were higher at the start, the market later becoming unsettled, only wheat closing a shade lower. July corn was unchanged, but oats were ⅝@⅝c higher, with September. Provisions up from 5@7½c to 10c.

Continued rains in the southwest, together with higher cables, caused a strong opening in wheat, July being 1c to 1⅛c higher at 76¼c to 76⅝c. Trading was decidedly active during the early part of the session and shorts covered freely, while commission houses appeared considerable selling orders. Reports that the crop damage had been largely overestimated began to come in later in the day, and local traders began to feel uneasy over the situation, which resulted in an immense amount of long wheat being thrown upon the market. The demand was not as urgent as at the start, and subsequent prices declined, helped in a large extent by the break in St. Louis, July selling off to 75½c. Some late buying, on the theory that the losses were better done, and the close was steady, with July a shade lower at 75⅞@76c. Primary receipts were 821,100 bushels, compared with 693,000 bushels last year. Clearances, including Dun's report received reports at 283 cars, which, with local receipts of 22 cars, 1 of contract grade, made total receipts for the three points of 305 cars, against 159 cars last week and 250 cars a year ago.

There was a big trade in corn throughout the entire session, with commission houses doing a large part of the business. The market was extremely bullish at the opening due to the unfavorable crop prospects, and everybody seemed disposed to buy. With July up to 49¾c the sentiment in the pit changed and liquidation on a large scale set in, which caused a reaction in the price. A rally occurred later on the advance, and closing prices were steady, with July unchanged, after selling between 48¾c and 49½c. Local receipts were 429 cars, with 26 of contract grade.

Oats were dull all day and prices were higher. The unbroken drought in the east and the firmness in the cash article were the main supporting influences. Offerings were very scarce early in the day, but later, with prices at the top notch, there was considerable liquidation by local longs and prices receded. July closed ½@⅝c higher at 36½@36¾c, after ranging between 36¼c and 37c. Local receipts were 158 cars.

Provisions were dull and undecided most of the day. Influences affecting the market were about evenly divided, and little change in price was manifested early in the session. Coverings by shorts late in the day caused firmness and September pork closed 10c higher at $16.05. Lard was up 10c and ribs 7½c higher at $9.22½ and $8.55, with ribs 10c higher at $9.20.
